BALTIMORE (AP)—John David Provo, 37, once convicted and sentenced to life for wartime treason, was ordered freed Monday when a federal judge ruled "deliberate" government delays prejudiced his chances of a fair trial at this time.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen dismissed the indictment charging seven overt acts of treason while Provo was a prisoner of the Japanese after the fall of Corregidor in World War II.

No Second Trial

He said he would sign an order for Provo's release sometime today. The decision automatically ruled out a second trial on the charges asked by the government.

Judge Thomsen said Provo would be released on his own recognizance pending the possibility of an appeal by the government to the Supreme Court.

Provo, a tall, scholarly-looking onetime San Francisco bank clerk, broke down and wept when his four young court-appointed lawyers told him of the decision, handed down in chambers.

"I am very grateful," he said.

Judge Thomsen, in a 33-page opinion climaxing more than a month of hearings and deliberations on Provo's petition for release, said he found Provo "could not have a fair trial at this late date."

Harmed By Delay

He also found the former Army sergeant had been denied the right of speedy trial within the meaning of the 6th Amendment and that the government's "deliberate choice for a supposed advantage" in trying him originally in New York caused "oppressive delay and damage to the defendant."

The government charged Provo shaved his head and donned the white robes of a Buddhist priest, greeted the conquering Japanese on Corregidor in the Philippines in May 1942 and offered his services.

A jury in New York Federal Court two years ago convicted him on four of the seven treason acts charged. Specifically, he was convicted of offering to aid his Japanese captors, informing on and causing the execution of a fellow prisoner of war, Capt. Burton C. Thomson, of Swea City, Iowa, and on two charges of wilfully broadcasting propaganda for the enemy.

Provo was sentenced to life imprisonment and fined $10,000 but an appeals court reversed the verdict last August. It ruled the government had wrongly tried Provo in New York instead of Maryland and that the trial judge had wrongfully admitted testimony of homosexuality.

Death Comes At 103

WEST HAVERSTRAW, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Susan Amelia Conklin is dead at the age of 103 after surviving lobar pneumonia when she was 99 and a broken hip the following year. Mrs. Conklin, born Oct. 17, 1851, at Newfoundland, N. J., died Monday at the home of a niece.

Three Senators Spurn Confidential Copies Of The Yalta Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Capehart (R-Ind) and Sparkman (D-Ala.) today backed the refusal of Sen. George (D-Ga.) to accept "confidential" copies of the Yalta conference record.

Secretary of State Dulles announced Monday he had decided not to publish the papers dealing with the World War II Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting in the Russian Crimea. He said he would send copies to key members of Congress.

State Department Press Officer Henry Suydam mentioned national security and Allied unity as reasons for Dulles' decision. The 1945 conference over the past 10 years has been a point of much Republican-Democratic controversy.

George said Monday he would not take responsibility for possible news leaks and would turn back three copies assigned to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which he heads.

He said he doesn't know what is in the record and doesn't want to know unless the papers can be made public.

Capehart, a member of the committee, said in an interview he feels "the same way Sen. George does."

"I would not accept these documents and take the responsibility of their getting out," he said.

Sparkman, another Foreign Relations Committee member, said he supports George's position that the State Department ought to take the responsibility either for publishing the Yalta papers or keeping them secret.

At the Yalta conference, the Big three set the terms for Russian entry into the war against Japan. In the years since, the Republicans have accused President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his aides of selling out Chinese Nationalist interest in Manchuria. The Democrats have contended the Russians broke pledges they made at Yalta.

GOES TO WASHINGTON—Frank G. Millard of Flint, former Michigan attorney general, has been appointed general counsel of the U. S. Army. He succeeds John G. Adams, central figure in the McCarthy hearings, who has resigned, effective March 31. Millard, a Republican, was defeated last fall in his bid for a third term as attorney general.

Senate Measure Boosts Gasoline Tax To 6 Cents

LANSING (AP)—The "big highway" bloc won a smashing victory in the Senate Monday night and was ready to pass a highway expansion bill today which would build up a system of four-lane divided highways in Michigan.

Widening the gap between those who want an arterial highway system and those who wanted the bulk of new revenues spent on local roads and streets, the Senate leadership rolled up a 22-10 margin on a final test roll call.

Final Passage Today

Only a vote on a minor technical amendment is necessary today before the final passage.

The bill as it stands would:

Increase the state gasoline tax from 4½-cents a gallon to 6 cents, providing about 33 million dollars a year in new money.

Split this new money 75 per cent to the state and 25 per cent to counties and municipalities.

Require the state's portion to be spent on a system of four-lane divided highways, largely in southern Michigan.

Opposition In House

Allow the state and local units to allocate one-fifth of their new money the first year for revenue bonds to build roads, two-fifths the second year and three-fifths thereafter.

Sponsors said this would permit the state to start a 100 million dollar road building program in the first year and build up to a 225 million a year program in three years.

The bill must go back to the House for agreement in the substantial changes made by the Senate in the original House measure. The local road bloc is strong in the House and an inter-chamber dispute is possible.

Britain Catches Up With Phony Doctor Who Viewed Women

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—A phony doctor who liked to examine women in the nude aroused little suspicion because people in the British welfare state "are so schooled to officialdom," a prosecutor said Monday.

"They are hesitant to challenge credentials," explained J.W. Gibb, prosecuting Charles Fraser, 26, on 22 charges of indecent behavior. Gibb said Fraser went around telling housewives he was an inspector in the city health department. He asked women to undress so he could examine them for scarlet fever spots. A great many did.

Fraser admitted his guilt. He was held for sentencing by a higher court.

Wisconsin Soldier Shows No Remorse For Killing Parents

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Military authorities described as remorseless today a private who said he shot his parents to death last Thursday at their Wisconsin home.

Pvt. Eugene D. Salzman, 24, surprised a provost marshal and chaplain Monday with a statement that he killed the couple.

Emil Salzman, 42, and his 39-year old wife were found cut down by rifle fire in the driveway of their Hayward, Wis., home a week ago.

Just Got Mad

Capt. A. M. Miny and Chaplain Earl C. Parker went to the youth's cell to break gently to him the "sad news of his parents' deaths."

They said they were unaware young Salzman already had been charged with murder in Wisconsin.

The youth, held in the stockade at James Connally Air Force Base here on an AWOL charge from nearby Ft. Hood, Tex., was picked up in a Waco tavern Saturday.

Miny, who learned of the parents' deaths from a Friday edition of the Chicago Tribune, said the private gave him no chance to break the "news."

"I figured you'd find out," the youth said.

"What?" asked the startled captain.

"What happened up there in Wisconsin," answered Salzman. Miny told newsmen he caught his breath and then asked:

"Why did you do it?"

"I just got mad," answered the soldier.

"You mean mad enough to kill your father and mother?" the officer asked.

Salzman answered he was "mad at the whole world, at the Army, and I had been drinking." Later he told Dist. Atty. Tom Moore Jr. that his parents hadn't written to him for three weeks and had refused to send him money.

Had Behind Stump

He said he hitchhiked to Hayward March 10 and went directly to his parents' home.

Capt. Miny said the youth "showed no remorse at all... couldn't care less about the whole thing, apparently."

Salzman told Moore he hid behind a tree stump and waited for his parents to get home from work last Thursday. When they arrived, he said, he shot them as they alighted from their car, robbed their bodies of $109 and left in his brother's car.

Then he returned to Waco, via St. Paul, Minn., and Dallas, Tex., hitchhiking the last 100 miles from Dallas.

Officers said when arrested that the youth had $51 in his pocket.

Friendly Study Of Wall Street Wearing Thin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the friendliness of the Senate's "friendly study" of the stock market appears to be wearing thin.

Members of the Senate Banking Committee disagree sharply among themselves, and witnesses they question are increasingly at odds over these questions:

1. Are stock prices too high?

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says he gave up years ago trying to figure out the stock market. Presidents of the leading stock exchanges think the market is healthy. But the head of the Sears Roebuck pension fund is nervous about the recent stock price swings.

Prices Take Tumble

2. Is the Senate inquiry rocking the market?

William Mc Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, says he doesn't know. But even while the senators were arguing the point, stock prices—whether by coincidence or not—tumbled at a rate that makes some wonder if the whole question of high prices might not soon become academic.

3. Is there too much speculation in the market?

One witness tells the committee a 1929 type of boom-bust is possible. A number of others say the 1929 and 1955 situation aren't comparable.

4. Is the public buying so many stocks on margin that is, in part on the cuff that it is hurting the economy?

Change Unnecessary

Some say the percentage of margin trading is too small to be dangerous. Others urge that margins promptly be moved nearer the all-cash basis to protect the public from itself. And some say there's nothing like falling stock prices to make a change unnecessary. At present, stock purchase rule is at least 60 per cent cash and not more than 40 per cent on credit.

5. Is the Federal Reserve Board, by its actions on margins and on interest rates, favoring the bankers and the stock brokers over businessmen and farmers?

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) suggests "an unfriendly critic" might so charge. But Martin insists the reserve board's present policy is part of a "moving picture of the whole economy" and can't be viewed as "a still." Martin says a reasonable amount of credit in the stock market is a healthy thing.

Fire Fatal To 6 At Laramie, Wyo.

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Six men were killed early today in a fire that flashed through an old two-story hotel.

Fire Chief Blake Fanning said the blaze centered in the rear lobby of the Johnson Hotel near the stairs. Guests were forced to escape from windows and fire escapes.

Five of the dead were identified as Harold C. Dahl, La Porte, Colo., Ed (Boots) Smith of Laramie, Eric Irene of Laramie, Henrich Burglund of Laramie and Walter Fimmel of Cheyenne.

Another victim was burned beyond recognition.

Five men were hospitalized with burns or effects of smoke. One is in critical condition.

Firemen were still probing ruins of the 55-year-old hotel building for bodies, but Fanning said he believed all the hotel's occupants had been accounted for.

The old hotel had 30 rooms and Fanning said it was believed there were 25 to 30 persons registered. Fanning estimated damage at $45,000 to $50,000.

Chiang Will Not Accept Truce In Formosa Strait

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek told U.S. Secretary of State Dulles at their meeting here March 3 that he would not accept a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, the Legislative Yuan (Parliament) was told today.

The information came from Foreign Minister George Yeh, who attended the meeting.

Yeh assured the lawmakers the Nationalists would "definitely defend" Quemoy and Matsu.

A Communist attack on Quemoy and Matsu, he said, would be the start of an invasion of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Yeh did not, however, venture to say that such an attack also would be so regarded by the United States, which has indicated an on-to-Formosa assault on the offshore islands might prompt American intervention.

Defense Ministry and other officials repeated earlier denials of reports published abroad that a quiet evacuation of civilians from Quemoy and Matsu had been started or was contemplated.

The Nationalist air force claimed Monday to have destroyed 10 small Communist vessels in Amoy Bay, 3 gunboats of 150 tons each and 7 armed motorized junks.

State GOP Leaders Not Consulted In Millard Appointment

DETROIT (AP)—John Feikens, Michigan Republican chairman, said today that he and other "working" party leaders were "not consulted at all" on the appointment of Frank G. Millard as general counsel for the Army.

Other party sources, declining identification, speculated that the appointment might indicate a peace gesture with the party's McCarthy faction. Millard, former Michigan attorney general, has spoken kindly of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

"We were not consulted on it at all," said Feikens with an expression of resentment. "And you may quote me that way. All I know is what I have read in the papers."

Millard will succeed John G. Adams, a key figure in the Army-McCarthy fight, as senior legal officer for Army Secretary Robert Stevens.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), reached in Washington, said he was consulted by Pentagon officials on the matter several days ago. He said he approved the appointment "because I thought Millard's experience as attorney general qualified him for the job."

Millard reportedly was among those who maneuvered last month in an unsuccessful effort to unseat Feikens as state chairman at the Republican state convention.

Some Feikens followers said they felt Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield "masterminded" the Feikens ouster move. Summerfield denied it. Both Summerfield and Millard are from Flint and have been identified to Feikens politically.

Millard, 63, was defeated for reelection last fall as attorney general, running last on the Republican ticket.

Churchill Rapped By Labor Party

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons Monday night voted down an opposition Labor party motion to censure Prime Minister Churchill for failing to set up top level Russian-British-U.S. talks on banning the hydrogen bombs. The vote, which followed party lines, was 298-268.

The legislators immediately after approved 299-266 a Conservative amendment saying any such big power meeting must await ratification of the Paris agreements on West German rearmament.

The vote climaxed a debate on the government's H-bomb policy, highlighted by Churchill's disclosure that he is still working for a big power meeting to ease world tensions. But he suggested such talks should include West Germany and France.

Party Too Weak To Win, Says VP

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has bluntly warned members of his party that the GOP won in 1952 only because of its strong candidate, adding: "The Republican party today is not strong enough to elect a president."

These outspoken views of the political situation were given by Nixon when he talked to 2,500 fellow southern California Republicans during one of three speeches here Monday. The young vice president said that at the behest of President Eisenhower he was urging party workers "to do a big job this year and next."

Nixon called on GOP workers to build a majority party by 1956. Nixon gave this insight into the President's views:

"The current situation is one the President feels we should remedy and that's why he's taking hold of the Republican leadership at this time. He believes it's his responsibility to build the party so its strength will be as strong as that of the President himself."

Shelters Urged Against H-Bomb

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson has proposed public shelter programs for critical target areas likely to be blasted by hydrogen bombs in an enemy attack.

He said Monday some form of shelter will have to be developed in industrialized sections of the country to protect H-bomb survivors from deadly radioactive fallout.

But Peterson said he had no detailed plan to offer at this time. He made the shelter proposal following a closed door meeting of the FCDA national advisory council.

The council is holding a two-day session at FCDA headquarters at Battle Creek to discuss "newly created" problems of civil defense.

Peterson said that "it appears an evacuation program will be a sound civil defense principal for several years." He said only the development of intercontinental missiles equipped with atomic warheads would make it obsolete.

The council also was reported to have discussed the possibility of delegating research and planning for the detection of radioactive fallout to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Republican Lines Weaken In Fight Against Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican lines bent somewhat as the Senate headed today toward a showdown vote on a Democratic proposal to cut individual income taxes.

Sen. Young (R-ND) disclosed he had notified GOP leaders he is reserving the right to support the Democratic move. It has been offered as a substitute for an administration-backed bill to extend present corporation and excise tax rates a year beyond April 1.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B.

Johnson of Texas forecast a vote by midafternoon. The Senate has agreed to limit debate.

Both supporters and opponents of the Democratic proposal said the outcome could turn on which side has more absentees.

Republicans had counted on losing only Sen. Langer of North Dakota from their 47 members. They expected backing from about 6 of the 49 Democrats.

Young's declaration in an interview that he did not feel himself bound to go along with the GOP apparently was a blow to administration supporters. Some said they also were fearful of losing Sen. Case (R-SD). Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) declined to say how he would vote.

Sen. Long (D-La.) said he was sure of two GOP votes "and if we can get two more we can win." The substitute would give to families with income under $5,000 a year a $20 tax cut in 1956 for the taxpayer, plus $10 for each dependent except a spouse.

The House earlier had approved a cut of $20 for every taxpayer and dependent starting next Jan. 1. Whatever happens in the Senate, the bill will go back to the House.

New Air College Nominees Flunk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Half of the young men nominated for the new Air Force Academy have been failing their physical examinations.

Brig. Gen. Don Z. Zimmerman, dean of the faculty of the new institution, disclosed this Monday night and said that as a result, the Air Force has recommended that congressmen send candidates for the academy to the Air Force, for the stiff physical examination required for flight training, before nominating them.

"If congressmen do this, the men they do finally nominate will have a much better chance of being selected," Zimmerman told the Cosmos Club, a Washington social organization.

Frauds Charged In Credit Union

DETROIT (AP)—Three men were held by federal authorities today on charges stemming from a government investigation of the Ford Rouge Employees Credit Union.

The three are Robert Vezzosi, a suburban Dearborn Councilman and treasurer of the credit union; Charles H. Thompson, 22, a dismissed teller; and Edmond Bertrand, a Detroit bar owner.

Vezzosi is charged with "making false financial reports and statements for the year ending Dec. 31, 1954, to the Bureau of Federal Credit Unions with intent of deceiving the bureau and its examiners."

Thompson is charged with embezzlement and misapplication of $53,000. Bertrand is charged with aiding and abetting Thompson in embezzlement. No pleas were entered at Monday's arraignment.

No Deadline Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Today is not repeat—not the deadline for filing your income tax return. It used to be, but under a new law you get another month—until April 15—to get that job done.

Council For Public Schools To Be Formed

Plans for organizing the Escanaba Citizens Council for Public Schools will be developed at a supper meeting this evening at 6 in the multi-purpose room of the Lemmer school.

A group of approximately 40 citizens will meet to adopt a constitution for the new organization and to elect officers. Representatives of local service and civic clubs have been invited, as well as others who are interested in the school program.

The new organization is designed to assist the Escanaba Board of Education in working out the various problems confronting local education.

Temporary chairman is Charles Follo, a member of the Board of Education.

In a letter to local groups on the subject of the proposed Council for the Public Schools, Mr. Follo wrote:

"All over the nation citizens are becoming concerned with the crisis facing education today and in the future. The problems have reached such serious proportions that the President of the United States has called a White House conference to consider them. In some localities the most serious situation concerns the lack of buildings. Nationwide there is a serious teacher shortage at all grade levels. Financial difficulties confront almost every school system. A great deal of attention is being focused on the instructional program of our schools and in some cases there has been misunderstanding and unreasonable criticism. We are sure that you are aware that some of these very problems face our public schools in Escanaba."

Charles Brydges Dies In Ontario

Mrs. F. M. Nienaber, 324 S. 7th St., a cousin, has been advised of the death of Charles Brydges of Morrisburg, Ontario, Canada, a resident of Escanaba many years.

Mr. Brydges was an engineer for the Chicago & North Western Railway and later transferred to the Soo Line. A sister, Miss Maude Brydges, was a teacher in the Escanaba public schools.

The only immediate survivor is his widow.

Bruce Farrell as Martin Vanderhof, John Moore as Paul Sycamore, Sally Shaw as Penelope Sycamore, Mary Ellen McMeekan as Gay Wellington, John Wolkenhauer as Henderson, Ray Roy as Tony Kirby and John LeMire as Mr. Kirby. Absent from the picture are Geraldine Ambeau as Mrs. Kirby, Dick Gardiner and Bob Ferguson, two of the three men, and Marcia Weissert as Olga (Daily Press Photo)

Senior Comedy Wins Applause

A large audience applauded the Escanaba High School seniors last evening for their wonderful performances in the Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman play, "You Can't Take It With You", at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium. The well-known comedy performance will be repeated this evening at 8.

Deriving the most laughs from the crowd was Cynthia Sogard in her role of Rheba, the overly plump Negro maid, with her gum chewing, too big slippers and rolling eyes accompanied by a Southern drawl.

A fine job was done by Sally Shaw as Penelope (Penny) Sycamore, mother of the family and manager of the happy mad household which had no schedules for meals and such. Mrs. Sycamore, an excitable person with a high wavering voice, wrote novels as a hobby because a typewriter had been delivered by mistake to their home eight years ago.

Others in Household
Other members of the household included Lois Hendrickson as Essie, an attractive aspiring ballerina with no dancing ability, who practiced ballet steps at every possible moment; John Moore as Paul Sycamore, father, an inventor of new types of fireworks along with Mr. DePinna, played by Con Prokos. Mr. DePinna, who spoke with an Italian accent, and Paul Sycamore delighted the audience with their many schemes. Giving humorous performances as Ed, husband of Essie, and Donald, Rheba's Negro boyfriend, were Bob Zitner and Don Anderson.

Bruce Farrell played Grandpa, Martin Vanderhof, an elderly man who at a younger age quit an office job because he disliked the rigid schedule a person had to live with a job everyday. Keith Molin was perfect for his role of Boris Kolenkhov, Essie's Russian ballet teacher, and a close friend of the family.

Providing a romantic touch during the production were Alice Sycamore, a lovely young lady who could not conform to her family's carefree way of living, and Tony Kirby, son of wealthy and upstanding parents. The roles of Alice and Tony were adeptly handled by Pat Niles and Ray Roy.

Geraldine Ambeau and John LeMire portrayed Mr. and Mrs. Kirby, two typical stuffed shirts of the upper bracket persons in the town. At the end of the play, Mr. Kirby is converted to the happy madness of the Sycamores.

Kittens Get Laughs
Other fine portrayals were given by Mary Ellen McMeekan, as Gay Wellington, a drunken actress; John Wolkenhauer as Henderson, Internal Revenue collector; Marcia Weissert as Olga, an ex-Grand Duchess, earning her living as a waitress, and three men, Greg Anspaugh, Dick Gardiner and Bob Ferguson.

Two other performances which proved delightful to the audience were the two grey kittens, whose lively antics on stage brought many laughs.

Also deserving praise in connection with the senior play, besides the many student committees, are Margaret Kranstover, painting, and Irwin Wolff, construction, for their work on the scenery. Handling the lighting was Dick Stratton.

Director of the successful performance was John Romstad, and Donna Dubord acted as student director.

It's a simple task to make both ends meet when the financial end isn't short.

The facts have to be faced — the City's electric power costs are going to rise! Talk about the fancy profits of the past is only kidding the public.

LOOK AT THIS!
The City claimed earnings of $236,000 from its electric power operation in 1954. It paid $264,000 for its electric power during the year. The City Council now has under consideration a proposal which will increase its power bill $108,000 the first year—$138,000 the second year—$168,000 the third year.

SIMPLE MATHEMATICS -
Naturally, the City's earning will be reduced by the corresponding amounts listed above. On the other hand, during the first year of operation, the City will earn more than $100,000 under the Upper Peninsula Power Company proposal!

Kiwanians Study Power Proposal

From the standpoint of savings to the city of Escanaba and its power consumers, the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electrical Association offers the best solution to Escanaba's electrical supply problem, members of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club were told Monday by C. M. Stanley, consulting engineer of the Stanley Engineering Co., Muscatine, Iowa.

Sale of the city electrical distribution system, which will be decided by voters next month, is not an engineering problem but a matter of public policy, Mr. Stanley pointed out. If the city retains its distribution system, however, it then becomes an engineering problem, inasmuch as the municipality must then seek a new source of power.

The Alger-Delta association, a local corporation, offers to build an electrical power plant near the north Escanaba limits and furnish current over an 8 to 10 year period for an average cost of 1.04 per KWH, the speaker said. This would bring about considerable savings on rates, comparative investment and taxes, compared with a proposal for construction of a power plant by the city, Mr. Stanley declared. The cooperative's new power plant, consisting of two 75 KW units, would be ready in 20 to 24 months, it is estimated. Funds would be borrowed from the REA by the local corporation.

Alger-Delta makes this offer because it is interested in overall development of the area, with an expansion of mutual benefit to all concerned. The association also sees an opportunity to improve power production costs for itself by working with local communities.

A. V. Aronson was program chairman for the discussion Monday, the third and final number on the power situation offered for Kiwanis members. Mr. Stanley was introduced by Wynand Nieuwenkamp of Gladstone, manager of the Alger-Delta cooperative. Members of the Alger-Delta board of directors and members of the Escanaba city council were among the guests at the meeting.

—know how much real protection you are getting before you buy on the basis of "BARGAIN RATES" alone!

Everyone likes a bargain. There's nothing wrong with that. But when it comes to auto insurance, a few dollars saved on costs can mean the loss of a lifetime of savings—if you are not completely protected. Even on minor claims, you may lose far more than you could hope to save in years—if your coverage is inadequate.

That's why it's a matter of good common sense to check on the reputation of the company from which you buy auto insurance. In the case of our famous Blue Ribbon Policy, you will find you can enjoy true driving peace of mind—the kind of security that comes with doing business with this "company with a conscience."

Black, Adams Visit County On Campaign Tour

Judge Eugene Black of Port Huron, Democratic nominee for Justice of the Supreme Court, declared here today that he believes a legislative investigation of political contributions in Michigan should be conducted but that such an investigation should include the contributions of General Motors car dealers of Detroit as well as the contributions of the CIO or other labor organizations.

Judge Black's statement was in reply to a request of the Republican State Central Committee for a legislative investigation of political expenditures of the CIO Political Action Committee.

Judge Black said that he wired John Feikens, Republican state chairman, on March 1, advocating a complete and vigorous investigation into all past money contributions for political purposes and the uses thereof.

Paul Adams Here

Judge Black was in Escanaba with Paul Adams, of Sault Ste. Marie, Democratic candidate for Board of Regents, University of Michigan. They were guests of honor at a luncheon meeting today at the House of Ludington. Adams also attended a breakfast meeting today at the House of Ludington but Judge Black was unable to make the breakfast meeting because of adverse weather conditions last night at Crystal Falls where he was campaigning yesterday.

Judge Black, a former Republican attorney general, said that a Republican candidate for Supreme Court Justice, D. Hale Brake, former state treasurer, lacks qualification for service on the Supreme Court.

"Although I have made a careful study of the records dating back to 1930, I cannot find a single case presented by D. Hale Brake before the Michigan Supreme Court," Black charged. "I believe that a candidate for the Supreme Court should have considerable trial experience or a corresponding amount of judicial experience."

Black said that he also was campaigning for Judge Stephen Roth, candidate for Supreme Court Justice, and for Lynn Bartlett, Grosse Pointe, Democratic candidate for superintendent of public instruction.

Adams said that he is interested in broadening the educational base of the University of Michigan and particularly in helping the university meet the challenge of an increased student enrollment anticipated in the years ahead. He is a past president of the Soo chapter of the U of M Alumni Club.

Adams reported that he is completing a campaign tour of all counties of the Upper Peninsula and that he has found considerable public interest in this year's spring election.

Tribute Paid Civic Leader

Business associates and civic leaders joined a community in its tribute to William Warmington, president of the State Bank of Escanaba, at the funeral services held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Anderson Funeral Home Chapel. The Rev. George M. Reichard of the First Presbyterian Church officiated, assisted by the Very Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, rector of St. Steven's Episcopal Church. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Members of the State Bank of Escanaba attended the services in a body.

Honorary pallbearers were directors of the State Bank of Escanaba, Charles W. Stoll, Carl R. Wickman, Dr. Harold Q. Groos, James H. Jackson, C. Gust Peterson, Dr. John J. Walch and John A. Lemmer and E. O. Perron, assistant cashier.

An honorary escort of representatives of banking institutions included Arne J. Maki, First National Bank of Escanaba; William J. Schmidt, Escanaba National; John M. Olson, Gladstone State Savings Bank; Eugene H. Noblet, First National, Gladstone; William H. Boyle, Bark River State Bank; Mark A. Busch, First Wisconsin National, Milwaukee; Ralph Stickle, Michigan Bankers Association, Lansing; James Gribble, Hermansville State Bank; E. L. Pearce and August P. Johnson, Union National, Marquette; Herbert Cory and Howard Nadeau, Bank of Stephenson; Edgar Johnson, Merchants and Miners Bank, Calumet; Fred Shafer, Sault Ste. Marie Savings Bank; Chester Fitzgerald, Continental and Illinois National Bank, Chicago; Gordon Willis, National Bank of Detroit; Walter Drevdahl, Central Savings, Sault Ste. Marie; Roland M. Odgers, Menominee; Keith Bundy and August Carlstrom, State Savings Bank of Manistique.

Members of the Kiwanis Club who formed an honorary escort were Clarence Zerbel, George Ruwitch, John J. Bartella, Fred Johnson, Mike Farrell and E. G. Bennett.

The active pallbearers were Joe Bartozek, Eino Karjala, Nelson P. Jensen, Andrew J. Johnson, Oscar Bolm and Robert Schroeder, employees of the State Bank of Escanaba.

Those attending the rites also included Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Trowbridge, Detroit; Miss Sarah Chamberlain and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Braspenick, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Balmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Balmer and Warren Balmer, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warmington, Mr.

Thieves Enter Two Places In Escanaba

Two Escanaba business places were broken into recently but no money or merchandise is missing, according to reports to the city police.

The Ness Glass Company shop at 1628 Ludington St., was entered sometime during the weekend by thieves who forced open a rear door and then the door into the furnace room.

George Kirt reported to police at 11 p. m. yesterday that the West End Cafe, 302 Stephenson Ave., had been entered by persons who pried open a rear door and then forced open an inner door to the restaurant.

Roadmen Attend State Meeting

The Michigan Highway Conference at Grand Rapids is being attended by representatives of the Delta Road Commission, including Omer Tanguay, Bark River, Commission chairman.

Chairman Tanguay and George Peterson, assistant superintendent of the Road Commission, made the trip to Grand Rapids by auto. William Karas, Road Commission superintendent-engineer, went to Grand Rapids by plane, leaving and Mrs. James Warmington, Mr. and Mrs. John Warmington and Mr. and Mrs. Ransdell Ohman, Iron River; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warmington, Hancock; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bubbs, Charles Gruber and Mrs. Gladys Klein, Milwaukee; Miss Elsa Ehrenlof, Chicago; Mrs. M. A. Nadeau, Stephenson; Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Calumet; John Landon, Sault Ste. Marie; Mrs. Max Hansen, Green Bay; Mrs. Roland M. Odgers, Menominee.

The Masonic service was held at the funeral home chapel Sunday at 8 p. m. with Guy W. Knutson conducting the burial ritual.

Escanaba yesterday after the regular meeting of the Road Commission.

At its meeting, the Commission opened bids to supply the Road Commission with 80,000 gallons of gasoline for county road equipment over a six-month period; and 20,000 gallons of diesel fuel for the same period. The bids were referred to the superintendent-engineer for analysis and report.

In other business the Road Commission authorized advertisements for bids for materials necessary to strengthen the West Gladstone bridge; and for bids for four two-ton dump trucks and three pickup trucks to replace six units which are to be considered as trade-ins.

THE dedication of the John A. Lemmer School Sunday afternoon marked a very important date in the history of public education in this city.

For one thing, it was the occasion for dedicating the first new public elementary school in the community in a half century.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

An Oakland, Calif. reader asks if I remember those grimly humorous nonsense verses which, a generation or so ago, were as widely popular among youth as the Little Audrey and Little Moron jests of more recent times. "If so," she asks, "can you tell me what they were called and, if possible, where I can find some examples."

If I mistake not, dear reader, you are asking about the Little Willie and Little Bertie rhymes with which, I fear, we often plagued our parents. Only one of the many thousands current in the period remains in mind today. It ran:

"Little Willie on the track
Didn't hear the engine's squeal:
Now the engine's coming back,
Scrapping Willie off the wheel."

No less an authority than Robert Louis Stevenson is said to have written dozens of these rhymes and, indeed, to have given them their name—"grues." The word "grue" originally was a verb meaning to shudder and exists in the language, of course, as the stem of the common word "gruesome"—inspiring shudders or horror. An appropriate name indeed!

My correspondent will find further examples of this folk verse form in Dr. Charles Francis Potter's TREASURY OF AMERICAN FOLKLORE and perhaps her public library will have a copy of Harry Graham's long-out-of-print RUTHLESS RHYMES FOR HEARTLESS HOMES.

A Chicago reader—obviously a long-time railroad buff—takes me to task for my recent explanation of the term "jerk-water town."

He agrees that it originated in railroad-er's jargon to designate a place so small as to rate no station, only a spot where the train's water supply could be replenished from an overhead pipe whose controls were "jerked" by one of the train-crew. But he strongly disputes my remark that the operation "filled the engine's boiler with water." He implies that cascading cold water into a hot steam boiler would have catastrophic results and notes that the water actually was taken into the water tender, the first car behind the engine. I stand corrected—and might be pleased to have readers so passionately concerned with the accuracy of every last detail of what they read here.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

A dignified lawyer took his wife to Europe to celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Neither had been abroad before, but a more worldly junior partner volunteered to make their Paris visit a breeze. "I know the manager of the finest hotel there," he assured them. "I'll write that you're coming." He did, too. "This gentleman has done a lot for me," is what he dictated, "so I want to be sure that you give him the best of everything: corner suite, room service, etc., etc., etc."

The manager himself greeted the lawyer and, though he seemed surprised to meet the wife, shrugged his shoulders, and conducted the couple to their suite. Everything was lovely—including three young ladies, daintily clad, who sat in a row in the sitting room.

The Doctor Says . . .

Parents Need Patience Of Job, Wisdom Of Solomon

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

When I was a boy I never realized how hard it was to be a good parent. Personal experience has given me a new slant; large numbers of parents send in difficult questions also. A few of these are discussed today.

One mother writes that her 13-year-old son weighs 175 pounds, which is far too much, and some people say he has glandular trouble and others that he eats too much. She adds that he does have a large appetite and the possibly significant item that he is an only child.

ONE COULD NOT SAY that the boy does not have glandular trouble without examining him, but it is certainly much more likely that his overweight is the result of too much food. Perhaps he is deeply unhappy for some reason and he eats too much because that is one of the few things he thoroughly enjoys.

This possibility should at least be explored by the mother and perhaps a sympathetic physician. The child should also be steered into better dietary habits and, if possible, into activities other than eating from which he can derive pleasure.

A DIFFICULT PROBLEM of another kind is presented by Mrs. H., who says that her six-year-old child was fine until he started school. He went to school for a couple of weeks and then became so nervous that he stuttered. On the advice of the school he was taken out, but when he was started the next year the same thing happened.

The Lemmer school is one that residents of the community can take exceptional pride. It is a beautiful school, well designed and well constructed. It is a school that will serve the community well for many, many years ahead.

The special education facilities in the new school are particularly satisfying. These facilities with the staff of specialists in this field combine to make the Escanaba Public Schools outstanding in this field of education. They provide assurance that every youngster in the community, handicapped or not, will be given the opportunity for education that he or she requires.

The Escanaba Board of Education and the community have paid a real and deserving tribute to Supt. John A. Lemmer in naming this beautiful new school in his honor.

No Delay If We Are Attacked

THE atomic energy law says that only the President of the United States may order the use of atomic weapons, a provision that has caused considerable speculation about possible delays in the event of a national emergency.

To allay such fears the United States military high command has announced that it has issued an iron clad order that America's long range strategic bombers shall take off and strike back in the event of an enemy attack on this country.

In other words, the go-ahead signal for use of atomic weapons has already been issued to become effective if this country is attacked. The order, of course, was passed down by President Eisenhower to the military command and relayed to base commanders.

In the event of an attack upon this country, minutes would be important in organizing retaliatory action. The explanation by the military command provides assurance that precious time will not be lost in such an emergency. Further and equally important, it gives warning to potential enemies that any attack upon this country will be met promptly and effectively with atomic retaliation.

Questions and Answers

Q—How did the oldest Greek translation of the Old Testament come to be called the Septuagint?

A—The name is from a Latin word meaning seventy. It is commonly supposed to refer to an early belief that the translation was made in 72 days by 72 scholars. This belief is questioned by modern Biblical students.

Q—Is the mace used in both houses of the U. S. Congress?

A—The mace is the symbol of authority in the House of Representatives; there is no mace in the Senate.

"Who are they?" gasped the lawyer. "Ah, monsieur," the manager assured him. "It is as your friend requested. The three etceteras!"

Today In Washington

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND
WASHINGTON—An unusual paradox is becoming increasingly visible in American politics. It is made up of these two conflicting elements:

1.—The frank admission, privately, by most Democrats that President Eisenhower is enjoying an unexampled and mounting prestige despite the controversies of more than two years in office.

2.—The frank admission privately, by most Republicans that, even if Mr. Eisenhower should run and again win overwhelming next year, there is serious danger the Republican party could not regain control of Congress.

There is substantial evidence to support both of these conclusions.

Washington correspondents have to go back into history further than their memories to find anything to match the present mid-term popularity of Mr. Eisenhower. Some say there has been nothing like it since the days of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. Consider the fact that, well in his third year, the President's Gallup Poll rating is still capable of moving to new highs. A month ago 69 per cent of the nation's voters approved the way Mr. Eisenhower was handling his job—and now it is 71 per cent. A total of 13 per cent express no opinion—they could divide either way—and only 16 per cent disapprove.

AN AMAZING RECORD
That is an amazing record. Rarely is a Presidential election won by more than a 2 to 5 per cent majority and by this time a new President is traditionally experiencing the accumulated voter resentment over what he has done and hasn't done, what he has advocated and what he has opposed by way of legislation during his first half-term of office.

Despite his massive victory in 1952, President Roosevelt did not register at mid-term the total popularity which President Eisenhower has today. Mr. Roosevelt had great strength in the country but by 1934 he had generated intense and substantial opposition. There is little, if anything, in history to match the fact that only 16 per cent of the voters disapproved of the Eisenhower administration at mid-term.

The President seems to be almost immune to voter opposition. It seems to dissolve before him.

But the Republican party is not immune to voter opposition. The alarms are already being sounded—and perhaps the alibis got ready—for 1956. The latest comes from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senate Campaign Committee, who already foresees the "odds heavily against" the Republicans overcoming the two-vote Democratic Senate majority in the election next year.

Sen. Goldwater suggests that it is principally the election "mathematics" which are against Republican chances. He points out that there are two more Republican seats at stake next year than Democratic and that more of the Republican seats are in doubtful territory. But Sen. Goldwater didn't mention that the exact opposite was the case last year and that the Democrats won the Senate, as well as the House, despite having the "mathematics" against them. They won by the biggest percentage of the vote—52.6—in an off-year election since 1934.

PARADOX IS VISIBLE
There is more to the Republican Congressional uncertainties than mathematics. The paradox is visible: the increasing popularity of a Republican President and the lagging popularity of the Republican party in Congress.

There may be a variety of explanations for this paradox but it seems to me to pose the most basic, unresolved decision facing the Republican party between now and the next election. It is evident that the voters simply have not and do not equate the Republican party in the same terms they do the President. The reason the voters do not consider them alike and value them alike is that they are not alike.

The truth is that there was much opposition within the Republican party to Dwight Eisenhower in 1952. The majority of the Republican Congressmen were against his nomination. They accepted him reluctantly. The nation accepted him eagerly. The Republicans in Congress support the President quite often, but never very eagerly. Until they do, the voters are not likely to support the Republican party very eagerly or very conclusively at the polls and that, I think, is what should give Sen. Goldwater his greatest anxiety.

An Indiana woman caught two youths who snatched her purse with 25 cents in it. Gave them no quarter.

It's lack of common sense that makes speeders realize their mistake by accident.

There is little drinking to excess in the home where there is little access to drinking.

The Old Man Of The Sea Reappears

Stalemate Means Only Defeat To Chiang's Formosa Air Force

TAINAN AIRFIELD, Southern Formosa—(NEA)—The water buffalo slowly rubs his moldy flanks against the steel edge of the new American tank, indeed a better scratching post than the thin trees in this orange grove.

The Nationalist tanker on guard in the turret sleepily watches the buffalo. They both twitch but slightly as jet after jet whooshes 50 feet overhead to land on the adjacent airstrip.

Man and beast are already used to the eerie screams of the new skyfighters now returning over ancient paddy fields from another mission against Communist invasion craft in the East China seas.

It is a futile assignment. For despite minor success, they simply cannot halt, can barely hesitate, the calculated, lumbering sweep of Red China's wooden fleet down the coast, gobbling long held Nationalist offshore islands one by one—the Tachens, Pishan, Nanchishan. . . .

The ground crewmen swing their heads with each arrival like spectators at some grim tennis match and chant each landing pilot's name: "Chiang . . . Ho . . . Wu . . . Ling . . ."

All returned! A happy landing in sharp contrast to the previous mission when a fine young ace, with gay almond eyes and a bird's instinct for air-travel, was absent. His engine was shredded by Communist flak. Flung free by automatic ejector, his chute failed. He splashed in the freezing waters as his friends circled once in farewell.

The pilots scamper down aluminum ladders, file toward the briefing room chattering in Chinese—but using both hands to indicate recent plane movements in the fighter pilot's international sign language.

In their gray over-all G-suits, yellow Mae Wests, brown parachutes and checker-board painted helmets they resemble Chinese school kids playing at war.

Few weigh over 130. Lt. Wu Sheng Shan is 24, weighs 114 pounds, stands five feet four in size five shoes and looks 14. (When he trained last year at Luke Field, Ariz., co-eds he tried to date giggled and offered him candy.)

The briefing—like the field itself—shows how complete is U. S. influence. There are cheery cartoons in English on flying safety and snaps of U. S. air generals who visited here.

Only a somber shot of President Chiang Kai-shek, in high, old style collar, a glossy reminder of the past, and a huge relief map of China proper, that captured land, focus the mind on the current struggle.

Marked on the map are Red airports active and still building that face this island fortress, airports that will surely in the near tomorrow challenge Formosa in a great battle for air control over the Straits that would precede an invasion try.

The buzzing hub of praise at the debriefing is a stocky pilot named Huo-Mao-Hsin who showed a streak of courage too rare in the Chinese civil war. Unlike our fliers, rewarded with jiggers of whiskey after missions. Captain Huo sips hot jasmine tea as he explains:

A cluster of junks carrying Red troops, shepherd by two gunboats, were spotted in Taishan, a Red island hop-off harbor for the drive south. Daring streaks of flak bursts, he soared down, leveled off at 40 feet above the waves and zoomed toward one gunboat at 500 m. p. h.

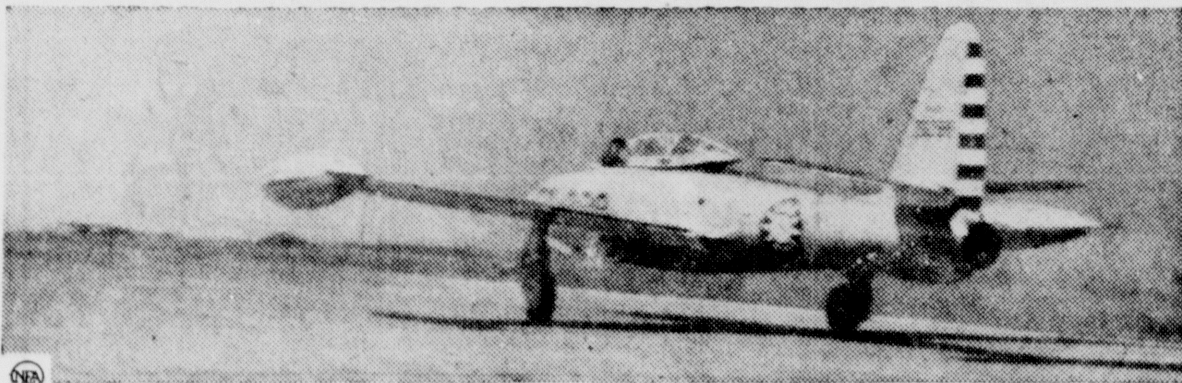

One hundred and fifty feet away he released his two 500 pound bombs with 45 second delayed fuses. They hit the water and skipped.

One went high—over the superstructure. The other pierced the hull above the water line and exploded. Other Thunderjets made strafing runs, pumping 50 calibre machine gun bullets into the burning wreck.

The few planes airborne lacked time for further hunting. Their fuel holds safely for roughly two hours and it's 45 minutes to target. A pilot must watch the gas supply indicator with one eye, the enemy with the other.

Boat busting is about the only assignment now given Capt. Huo and jet-comrades. All mainland China is a sanctuary for communism today—like Red air bases north of the Yalu during the Korean War. As the Free World still prays for cease fire, it pulls its punches.

Naturally, fliers are bitter, frustrated, furious. A "cease fire," a "two Chinas" policy, means the end of their ticket home—a ticket they daily swear to purchase with their lives. Here "stalemate" means "defeat."

INTO THE WILD RED YONDER roars a Thunderjet fighter of the Chinese Nationalist Air Force, headed for the Communist coast to hunt the ships that might springboard invasion of Formosa.

ON THE RUN. Nationalist pilots leave ready room for mission against Red shipping.

USAF ADVISOR, Capt. Jack Clark (rear) helps conduct briefing of Chiang's pilots.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
(NEA Washington Correspondent)
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—An American plan for greater defense mobilization effort in Western Europe is now being urged on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

While this idea has not been presented to the Europeans in specific preparation for the day when U. S. military aid to NATO will be further cut down, the net effect is the same.

It has been pointed out to the NATO countries that if a new European war should break out, Atlantic shipping would be much more hazardous than it was in World War II.

It would therefore be extremely risky for the European defense forces to depend on the United States for supplies of new military equipment, spare parts for repairs and ammunition to the extent they have been relying on America in the past.

This action was taken at a meeting of NATO's "High National Production Authorities" in Paris at the end of January.

IT RECEIVED NO NOTICE at the time because the closed meeting came just when news from Formosa and the China coast was at peak interest.

Originally, Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, director of the U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization and sponsor of the new NATO defense mobilization plan, was to attend the Paris meeting. Because he is also a member of the U. S. National Security Council he could not leave Washington during the Formosa crisis.

ODM's Deputy Director Victor E. Cooley, board chairman of Southwestern Bell, St. Louis, went instead. He was accompanied by Thomas P. Pike, assistant secretary of Defense for Supply and Logistics. Chairman of the meeting was Lovell P. Weicker, expresident of Squibb, who has been assistant secretary general of the international staff at NATO for the past two years.

Mr. Cooley, reporting on the Paris defense mobilization meeting, emphasizes that the NATO countries have already done considerable basic work. NATO planning groups have been building up European supplies of petroleum, coal, steel, food and a dozen principal raw materials. This work was begun after Lord Ismay of the United Kingdom was made NATO secretary-general three years ago.

MOST OF THE PLANNING has been done for the needs of the 14 individual countries, however, and not for the coordinated requirements of European defense in case of war.

Cooley and Pike, presenting reports on the American defense mobilization program, stressed the importance of stockpiling, industrial dispersion, duplication of production facilities for critical items and civil defense planning. Steps to be taken in case American sources of supply should be cut off were also emphasized.

NATO production authorities are now understood to be consulting with their governments on further steps to be taken to meet the American proposals.

If this plan for a new, coordinated defense mobilization plan in Europe should be adopted by NATO, it would, in part, take the place of the arms pool production plan suggested by the former French Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

It would also supplement the arms control agency plan provided in the Paris agreements of last October for the resumption of arms production in Germany, its rearmament and its admission to NATO.

JUST HOW MUCH PROGRESS has been made in European defense planning is revealed for the first time in Lord Ismay's new report on "NATO—The First Five Years—1949-'54." Copies of this document, largely written by Lord Ismay himself, have just been received in Washington.

Armed forces of the 14 NATO countries have risen from four to seven billion men. Military budget figures have risen from $18 billion to $63 billion a year. Forty per cent of this last amount, or $25 billion, now goes to defense production.

U. S. military aid to NATO has been over $30 billion in the five years. Of this, $15 billion has been for military end items. It includes $2 billion worth of off-shore procurement, ordered and paid for by the U. S. but made and delivered abroad. Six billion dollars more of this "OSP" is on order.

Democratic Chairman Declares Eisenhower Will Not Run In 1956

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Paul M. Butler, Democratic party national chairman, said Sunday night President Eisenhower will not seek re-election in 1956.

Butler said at a news conference he believes Eisenhower is unhappy in the White House because of the pressure of public office. The chairman expressed the opinion that the President has discovered that 42 years as a soldier has not equipped him for the chief executive's role.

Butler also predicted that Eisenhower and his advisers will have realized by 1956 that the voters won't support his program because of his "failure" to keep 1952 campaign promises.

Butler declined to comment on his recent statement that Eisenhower may be reluctant to run because of Mrs. Eisenhower's health. Butler said in Detroit, Mich., "Saturday that his party does not intend to make the first lady's health a campaign issue if Eisenhower does run."

1 PETER 1:6 (RSV) bids us rejoice: "though now for a little while you have to suffer various trials, so that the genuineness of your faith, more precious than gold which though perishable is tested by fire, may redound to praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ." One of the joys won through the patient endurance of trial is the knowledge that we have been privileged in some small measure to know what our Lord went through on our behalf.

Hottest, Coldest Spot In Michigan

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP)—This city of 10,425 often figures prominently in the nation's weather news as either the hottest or coldest spot. It frequently has reported 100 degree temperatures when the rest of the state was basking in ideal high-70 weather. Generally Cadillac's lows are the lowest in Michigan, often 15 to 25 degrees below neighboring towns, and on Jan. 30, 1951, the official weather station thermometers froze. A spirit thermometer registered 40 below zero.

Experts says the reason is that Cadillac sits in a depression in high hills 40 miles west of Lake Michigan and cold or warm air waves drop into the cup and stay.

Two of the New Testament authors dwell upon this. In Colossians 1:24 (RSV), Paul writes: "I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I complete what remains of Christ's afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church." 1 Peter 4:12, 13 says: "do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal which comes upon you to prove you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice in so far as you share Christ's sufferings." Thus it is that "this slight momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparisons" (II Corinthians 4:17, RSV).

Samuel Rutherford, 17th century Scottish clergyman imprisoned for his faith, wrote: "I would not exchange the joy of bonds and imprisonment for Christ, with all the joy of this poor world." "In heaven alone," he said, "is Christ enjoyed without allow; here we must share his cross; yet I know no tree beareth sweeter fruit than Christ's cross."

When Does The Farmer Stop Depending on Trucks?

Like the manufacturer, or the retailer, the modern farmer simply couldn't operate successfully without trucks.

Not only does he rely on trucks for the actual running of his farm and for the transportation of his livestock or produce to market—he and his family do all their shopping at stores whose shelves are stocked by trucks.

Yes, and the food processors and meat packers who "take over" from the farmer count on trucks, too, to get the finished product to the ultimate consumer.

When does the farmer stop depending on trucks? Never! They are as important to him as the land he works, as his tractor, his cultivator, and all the other tools he needs to carry on his farming.

And when his day's work is done and he's just "living," his life becomes a happier, handier, more comfortable and complete one because of trucks. Like his city cousin, everything the farmer eats, wears, or uses travels all or part of the way to him by truck.

Like his city cousin, the farmer never stops depending on trucks!

Rotarians Laud John A. Lemmer

John A. Lemmer, Escanaba superintendent of schools and a past president of the Escanaba Rotary Club, was honored Monday noon by Rotarians for his work for Escanaba young people and the recognition that came to him with the naming of the new John A. Lemmer grade school.

Denis McGinn, president of the Rotary Club, said that he believed it proper that Rotarians should take note of the fact that the name of one of their members is now listed with those of Webster, Washington, Jefferson and Franklin.

Charles Follo, member of the Escanaba Board of Education, extolled the record and accomplishments of Supt. Lemmer, who is now completing his 20th year as head of the school system.

"He has kept up the system and brought it to a point where it is highly regarded in the state. He has brought untold benefits to hundreds of young people in the community by encouraging them to achieve a higher education, and he personally has helped many from his own pocket," Follo said.

Through Supt. Lemmer's association with the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, assistance was given by her to the financing of the schools and to provide a better program for handicapped children, Follo noted. Regarding the naming of the John A. Lemmer School, Follo said: "I don't know of a more appropriate name we could have selected."

Minnie E. Crose Taken By Death

Mrs. Minnie E. Crose, 65, wife of Parker Crose, passed away at 2 a. m. today at the family home, 206 N. 18th St. Although her death was sudden, Mrs. Crose had suffered a lingering illness.

She was born Aug. 29, 1889 at Ford River. Mrs. Crose was a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and the Royal Neighbors of America.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Myra Gagnon and Mrs. Ruth McClellan, both at home; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Crose, eight grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home where friends may call beginning at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at the funeral home chapel at 3 p. m. Thursday with the Very Rev. Joseph S. Dickson of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

U.S. To Use Atomic Weapons In Next War, Dulles Thinks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he imagines the United States would use tactical atomic weapons if it becomes engaged in any major military clash anywhere in the world.

Dulles told a news conference he could not say offhand whether such weapons would be used in defense of Quemoy and the Matsus if the United States decides to assist the Chinese Nationalist forces in holding those islands.

He indicated, however, that if the Chinese Communists made a major effort to take the islands—and the attempt was also clearly aimed at conquest of Formosa—the United States might well intervene with sea and air forces equipped with atomic weapons.

By law, a decision to use atomic weapons may be made only by the President. Also, President Eisenhower has said he would reserve to himself alone any decision on the use of U. S. forces in defense of the Nationalist held islands.

Church History Topic Announced At St. Alban's

The fourth in a series of seven discourses on the history of the Episcopal church is scheduled Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., in St. Alban's church.

The topic this week will be on the Protestant Episcopal church and the impact of the Oxford movement.

Evening prayers and a litany service will precede the talk, Frank D. Masek, lay minister, announced.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sledz, 126 Maple Ave., have returned from a 2-month visit in Lake Worth, Fla. Mrs. George A. Oberg, of Detroit, is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Hilda Olson, 128 S. Mackinac Ave., and with her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Martin, at Marquette.

Mrs. Howard Hanson, 107 River St., is visiting friends at Peshigo, Wis.

Rotarians Hear Plans To Improve Ludington Street

The proposed resurfacing of Ludington Street at a cost estimated between $60,000 and $80,000, the project to continue over a period of several years, and other plans for improving the city's downtown business district were discussed Monday noon at a meeting of the Escanaba Rotary Club.

The discussion leader was Robert Mosenfelder, Escanaba businessman and a member of the Rotary Club's vocational service committee.

Loren Jenkins, Escanaba city engineer, and Hugh Grow, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, were guest speakers on the discussion panel.

Start This Year

Others on the panel were Rotarians Warren Morrison, Charles Follo, John Walsh and Donald J. Trotter.

Jenkins announced that the city plans to spend $15,000 this year to apply a leveling course over Ludington Street's bumpy surface. This would provide a base for the new blacktop pavement which would be constructed a portion each year over a period of several years, as funds were available.

The city realizes that the old pavement has outlived its useful

Stanley Reviews Alger-Delta Plan

C. M. Stanley of the Stanley Engineering Company, Muscatine, Iowa, and consulting electrical engineer for the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association, today noon met with members of the Escanaba City Council and city officials at the Delta Hotel.

The proposal of the Alger-Delta Cooperative to supply electric power wholesale to the city was reviewed by Stanley, with comparisons against the cost of municipal power.

Stanley did not comment on the Upper Peninsula Power Company's proposal to purchase Escanaba's electric distribution system, noting that the question was one to be decided by the people in the April 4 election.

If the people decide to keep the distribution system, it will be to the advantage of the people if the Council enters into an agreement to receive power wholesale from Alger-Delta Cooperative, rather than to build a municipal plant, Stanley said.

Attending the luncheon meeting were Councilmen Jacob Bink, Wesley Hansen and Robert E. LeMire, City Manager A. V. Aronson, City Clerk George Harvey and City Attorney Denis McGinn.

World Briefs

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon's government announced today it is ordering 5,000 ex-servicemen to home guard duty to meet disturbances feared from the spreading Communist-formented bus strike.

SINGAPORE (AP)—British officials said today the Finnish tanker Aruba—bound for Red China with a cargo of jet fuel—will not be given refueling service in any British-controlled port east of Suez. The Aruba, under charter of a Hong Kong Chinese firm, is now believed somewhere in the Indian Ocean.

MOSCOW (AP)—George F. Alexandrov, minister of culture, was criticized sharply today for failure to speed the Soviet Union's current campaign for increased corn and livestock production. Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Communist party boss, is the man pushing the campaign.

Evans Holds 29 Cribbage Hand But Loses Card Game

Fred Evans, of Manistique, held the rare 29 crib hand in a cribbage game here Friday night while playing with Frank Rubick, but still lost the game, to Francis Lesica and Probate Judge John Fackety.

Evans held three fives and a jack of diamonds and cut a five of diamonds to give him 29. But before he could tally his first count, his opponents pegged out.

Evans, a Great Lakes seaman, has been playing cribbage for 30 years and this was his first 29 hand.

Word has been received here of the birth of a son on March 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hughson, of Rochester, Mich. He weighed 8 pounds and 8 ounces and has been named Donald Willard. Mrs. Hughson is the former Mary Beth Bolitho.

Some motorists drive as if it was a matter of life or death—and it often is.

life-span and must be replaced, Jenkins said. He noted that a problem of an over-burdened storm sewer beneath the main street has been solved by connecting an intercepting storm sewer at 11th St., thus avoiding the necessity of digging up Ludington St. to enlarge the storm drain.

Construction of new sidewalks is the responsibility of property owners along Ludington Street, Jenkins said. He noted that street curbs cannot be lowered until the old high sidewalks are replaced, which requires cooperation of the property owners.

Meters and Tickets

Follo told the history of Ludington Street, beginning in 1863 with the settlement of the town and the surveying of the "wide main street" by Eli P. Royce. The street was named for Harrison Ludington, early-day lumberman, later to become governor of Wisconsin.

Warren Morrison said that he conducted an informal survey among Ludington Street businessmen to learn that they gave new paving first consideration. Repair of broken and rough sidewalks was also held to be important.

John Walsh noted that parking meters have become accepted but courtesy tickets to visitors, and perhaps a depository on the street for parking fines, would be a welcome convenience.

The 'Litterbugs'

The future of Ludington Street will depend on the economic prosperity of the entire community, said Donald J. Trotter. The community must provide jobs for its young people, who cannot be expected to return here or stay here unless there is employment, he observed. Industrial development committees need to become active, he concluded.

Hugh Grow, Chamber of Commerce secretary, reported that improvement is being made in the sidewalks as the city notifies the property owners when repairs must be made.

Ludington Street could be more neat in appearance if there were waste receptacles on the street corners and there was enforcement of an ordinance requiring their use, he said. Public cooperation would be essential he added.

Merchants are improving the appearance of their establishments, said Grow. Three shop interiors are now being remodeled, four shop fronts are being remodeled, four old buildings are being torn down and two are to be replaced with new shops along Ludington, he reported.

Rev. Jones Will Serve Bethany

The Rev. Sidney Willard Jones of Lake Stevens, Wash., who was recently called by the congregation of Bethany Lutheran Church to become its pastor, will arrive here about mid-June, it was announced today.

He is 43 years old, is married and is the father of two daughters. The Rev. Jones was born in Ironwood and Mrs. Jones is a native of Superior, Wis.

As pastor of Ebenezer Lutheran Church at Lake Stevens since June, 1952, the Rev. Jones has been leader in a building program that saw the erection of a new $75,000 church.

He is a graduate of the Ironwood High School, of Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette, and of Augustana Seminary at Rock Island, Ill. He was ordained on June 15, 1952, and his first call was to Lake Forest.

Prior to studying for the ministry, he was engaged in the insurance business in Ironwood. There he was a member of the Rotary Club.

The Rev. Jones will, in coming to Bethany Lutheran Church at Escanaba, fill a vacancy created last fall when the Rev. Gustav Lund left for Batavia, Ill.

Widow Of Coolidge Patient In Hospital

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, widow of President Coolidge, is a patient at Cooley Dickinson Hospital but her physician, Dr. Hugh Tatlock, said today her condition is not serious. She entered the hospital late Monday.

Dr. Tatlock declined to say what Mrs. Coolidge's current ailment is. A year ago she was hospitalized because of a heart condition. The former first lady is 76.

Cutter Begins Breaking Ice

CHEBOYGAN — The U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Mackinaw began its annual ice-breaking operations on Monday, with the first stages of her operations taking the powerful ship through the Straits of Mackinac and Round Island Passage.

When the ice is sufficiently cleared from these areas, she will turn toward Green Bay and Escanaba where greater concentrations of ice are anticipated.

Following her Green Bay stand, the Mackinaw will begin at DeTour and work her way up the St. Mary's River, through the Soo Locks, and into Whitefish Bay, where heavy ice is usually encountered.

These ice-breaking operations are of great value since the Mackinaw makes it possible to open the Great Lakes navigation season from four to six weeks earlier than it would be as the result of the normal spring thaw. These additional weeks of Great Lakes commerce result in millions of extra tons of cargo reaching manufacturers and consumers throughout the nation, which in turn means increased production, thousands of jobs, and a general rise in business activity.

During the part of the year when the Lakes are not covered with ice, the Mackinaw is engaged in carrying out many of the other duties of the Coast Guard, including law enforcement, air-sea search and rescue, maintenance of lighthouses, patrol of large yacht races, and the training of Coast Guard Reserve personnel.

Obituary

JOHN BUDINGER

Funeral services for John Budinger, a life long resident of the Escanaba and Cornell Township community, were held today at 9 a. m. at St. Anne's Church with Rev. Clifford Nadeau officiating. Burial was made in Lakeview Cemetery.

Palbearers were George Wise, Emil and Carl Carlson, Robert and Wilfred Mattson and John E. Ring.

Out-of-town people attending the services were Lawrence and Fred Clairmont, L'Anse; Glenn Hamilton, Marinette; Mrs. Margaret Young, Menominee; Ned Short, Rapid River, and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Quaghebeur, Rock.

JOHN W. SEPPALA

Funeral services for John William Seppala, early settler in the Rock community who died Saturday, will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at the Finnish Lutheran Church in Rock with the Rev. Amos Marin of Gwinn officiating. Burial will be in Rock Cemetery. Friends of the family may call at the Anderson Funeral Home beginning Wednesday afternoon. The body will be taken to the church at noon Thursday.

Survivors also include a son, Oiva Seppala of Rock.

HARVEY H. KELL

Funeral services for Harvey H. Kell, who died of a gunshot wound, self-inflicted, will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Zion Episcopal Church, Wilson. Rev. William Robertson will officiate. Burial will be made in the Wilson Cemetery.

Friends may begin calling at the Kell Funeral Home, Menominee, at 4 p. m. Wednesday. The body will be removed Thursday at 11 a. m. to the Zion Episcopal Church at Wilson, where it will lie in state until the funeral hour.

MRS. MARY ANN KESHICK

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Keshick, pioneer Indian resident of Harris, were held yesterday afternoon from the Methodist Church at Hannahville. Rev. Sigfried Carlson of Norway officiated the service. During the service a trio sang "Abide With Me" and "The Old Rugged Cross". The trio was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Philemon and Ely Petonquot, accompanied by Mrs. Leo Shieverli. Palbearers were Ely Petonquot, Elliott Petonquot, Joseph Petonquot, Henry Philemon, Henry Pine and Peter Hataday. Burial was in the family lot in the church cemetery.

Two Brownies of a recently organized troop, Diane Dickson and Irene Lawson, presented a short skit.

Girl Scouts from Troop 30 conducted the Candle Lighting Ceremony followed by remarks on the Juliette Low Fund by Mrs. Bernard DeHooghe. Juliette Low is the founder of Girl Scouts.

After the Penny March, an annual event, refreshments were served the troops, their leaders and guests. General chairman of the affair was Mrs. Jack Williams.

The man in a key position has the best chance of opening the door to opportunity.

Palbearers were Matt Lewis, Arthur Ludwig, Edward Anderson, Archie Campbell, Ralph Benson and Stanley Harris.

Out-of-town persons attending the services were Miss Sadie Somerville, Miss Julia Jossart, Ambrose Jossart, Mrs. Ann Mathy, Joseph Mathy, Miss Mary Mathy and Miss Judy Dugan.

A man can get along by doing very little if he has sense enough to know what not to do.

Birthday Of Girl Scouts Observed By County Troops

Approximately 650 persons attended the 43rd birthday party of Girl Scouting in the United States held at the Junior High School gymnasium Saturday afternoon.

Master of Ceremonies for the program was Judy Boyce of Troop 35, Escanaba, and Mrs. M. H. Garrard was accompanist for the Scouts.

Following the Flag Ceremony, conducted by Troop 13, Escanaba, group singing was enjoyed by those attending. During the beginning of the program, ten seconds of silence was observed in respect to the memory of Mrs. Louis K. Hillewaert, Delta County Girl Scout Council president, who passed away Feb. 22, 1955.

The program of the afternoon with each troop representing a country follows:

Africa—Troop 36, Gladstone, leader, Miss Janet Markham.

Alaska—Troop 29, Escanaba, leader, Miss Joan DeShambo.

Arabia—Troop 2

Upper Peninsula Cookery Subject Of Magazine Story

A mouth-watering description of Old World cookery which was brought to Michigan's Upper Peninsula by English, Swedish and Italian settlers in the '80's and '90's and which still fills the tables of their descendants, is carried as a full-length feature article in the March 19 issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

The author, Ragna Eskil, whose Norwegian parents mixed with the Swedes in that area, says that folks in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan are "innocents who imagine they're eating as well as we do in the Upper Peninsula." But, he adds, they just don't know about wild-blackberry jam, saffron bread, lutefisk, venison cooked with wild rice, and partridge browned in butter and simmered in sour cream, with wine added as a last touch.

Nor do they know the epicurean delights of pasty pastry, and the seven baked goodies served at a coffee party. And it is highly unlikely, he says, that they have an idea of a true smorgasbord, which to the uninitiated is any buffet-style meal that has cold cuts and salads.

But the Upper Peninsula smorgasbord is something else again. This consists of Sweden's national salad, a tremendous concoction of vegetables, meats and eggs, all properly spiced and dressed; tiny meat balls kept hot in a chafing dish; a platter of cold meats; a variety of cheeses, pickled herring with onions; anchovies ringed with hard-boiled egg; sliced cucumber in vinegar and pickled beets; and then the main course. A full-dress smorgasbord, the author asserts, is an eye-filling display of 20 to 30 beautifully prepared dishes.

"We're sure that we have better food in the U. P. than you can get anywhere else," he declares. "If you're skeptical, go into a city market and ask why Lake Superior trout and whitefish command the fancy prices. Or put our strawberries alongside Florida's and California's and compare them."

Fold cubes of leftover cake into vanilla pudding; arrange alternately with drained canned and cut-up fresh fruit in a glass bowl. Refrigerate for several hours and serve topped with whipped cream and a drizzle of freshly-grated nutmeg.

Your Baby

Baby tries his teeth on everything. The crib bar takes a terrible beating. There are now cribs that have plastic teething rails for extra-delicious biting. They're also a protection against Baby's eating a chunk of wood.

There are now inconspicuous caps to cover electrical outlets on the market. For any outlet not being used with a plug, these are a good idea. Baby will begin to poke into things and explore very soon and the electric outlets aren't good for him. It's a good idea, if you have a choice, to push furniture against those plugs you use to protect Baby from pulling them out. If there's a room with an overhead light, that's a good place for him to play when he's indoors, for you can remove the fragile lamps with tempting cords.

Long Torso Is Spring Silhouette

THE 1955 LOOK . . . Here are major silhouettes shown by New York designers in current advance previews of spring styles. The Dior line is adapted to the American taste, with the long-torso shape the most important silhouette.

By DOROTHY ROE
(Women's Editor)
Here's how you'll know it's new this spring:

The most important silhouette for the advance guard of the 1955 Easter Parade will be the long-torso shape. It comes in suits, in dresses and in three-piece costumes.

The long-torso silhouette is not, as previously reported, the shapeless sack of the 1920s. It hugs every curve of the figure, and requires more careful corseting than any fashions that have come along in the last decade. It is fitted from bustline to hipline, and has its belt around the hips. But woe to the gal who lets her midriff sag, if she aspires to one of these new spring outfits.

American manufacturers have adapted the Christian Dior line to the national taste. The newest spring outfits will preserve all the feminine curves, but will

KISSING THE BRIDE

The groom is always the first to kiss the bride after the ceremony. Find out if your clergyman will permit a kiss at the altar since some churches frown on such a custom.

accent curves instead of points. The bustline will be natural, without falsies, the waistline will be as nature made it, without cinchers. The idea is a straight, stem-like line from bust to hips, with the bosom following its natural curves above.

Fabrics this spring will be more sumptuous than in many years. Pure silk tweeds, chiffon weight wools and silklike cottons are all in the picture. The top color is, as usual, navy.

There will be lots of trim white collars, and a return of the navy and white polka dot silk dress, with a prim schoolgirl simplicity.

Costumes, consisting of three-quarter coat, slim skirt, and hip-length overblouse will be much in evidence. The coat is lined in fabric to match the blouse.

The year-round weatherwise theory again is evident in spring clothes, which are designed for 12-month wear. Easter suits will be lighter-weight than ever, planned to be worn throughout the summer and on into fall. Under coats, they can do winter duty also.

Necklines will be higher, skirts slightly shorter, bosoms raised and rounded—and you'll still have to diet, to be in step with the fashion parade of 1955.

Fine Tribute Paid MSC Concert Band

EAST LANSING—It took a Rose Bowl parade and game appearance to give the Michigan State marching band genuine recognition many felt it had long deserved. And now, a generous compliment by the dean of American bandmasters has given M.S.C.'s concert band a similar boost.

"One of the best two or three bands in the country," was the way Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman, described the 104-piece M.S.C. group he directed in a guest appearance at its recent midwinter concert.

At the same time, Dr. Goldman spoke of Prof. Leonard Falcone, director of bands at M.S.C., as being "a great conductor," "a wonderful organizer and virtuoso in his field."

For Prof. Falcone and his associates in the department of music, Dr. Goldman's statements formed a fine tribute to the musical organization they've developed in recent years.

Since Prof. Falcone joined the Michigan State faculty in 1927, bandmusic and band organization have progressed greatly. While at one time the word band meant but one unit at M. S. C., it is now a variety of things.

In the fall of the year during the football season, all attention is focused upon the 130-piece all-male marching band that specializes in precision marching.

The marching band is probably M.S.C.'s oldest musical organization having been organized in 1870 with a complement of ten members.

At the end of the football season, certain members of the marching band are released. The brass is diminished to the essential concert band instrumentation and a few highly rated coed musicians are added. The new combination is the concert band.

Then comes the hardest part of the year's work, according to Prof. Falcone.

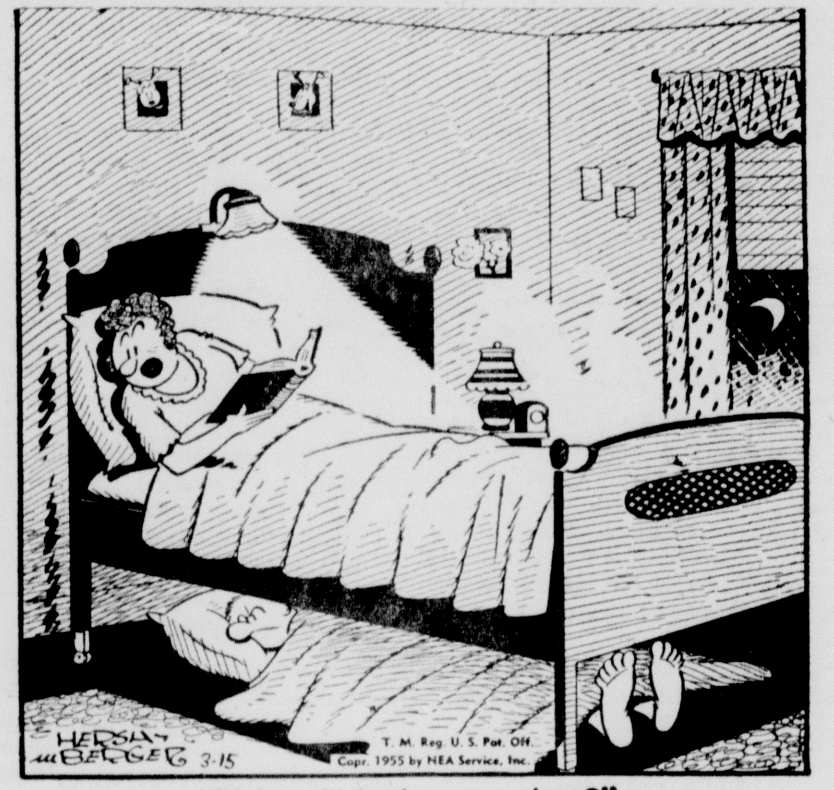

"The musicians have to switch from playing loud and heavy type football music to precise and serious playing demanded by concert arrangements," he said.

Once the change is accomplished, the concert band directs its efforts to its annual midwinter program. Other activities on the band calendar include playing for commencement exercises, making out-of-town appearances and presenting a series of spring concerts.

Besides the marching and concert bands, an additional unit operates separate of the two groups. It is called the activities band and was organized in 1947 by Prof. Falcone.

This band, which now is under the direction of Oscar Stover, assistant director of bands, plays at

Clinton Butler Receives Wings

Lt. Clinton C. Butler of the U. S. Air Force was graduated from a multi-engine pilot school at Reese Air Force Base in Texas yesterday, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Butler, 221 S. 9th St., city.

Presentation of wings and diplomas were made in an informal ceremony at the base theatre at 9 yesterday morning.

A letter from Colonel C. P. West, commander of the 3500th Pilot Training Wing at Reese Air Force Base, was received by Mr. and Mrs. Butler and portions of it follow:

"I have the privilege to inform you that on 14 March 1955, your son, Clinton C. Butler, will be graduated from the United States Air Force Basic Pilot School (Multi-Engine) with other members of his class who have successfully completed one year of training, thus qualifying them as rated pilots in the United States Air Force.

"You have every reason to be justifiably proud of your son and the outstanding capabilities he has demonstrated by his high achievement. My heartfelt congratulations."

Airman Darl Tang Returning To U. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tang received word on Saturday from their son, Al C. Darl Tang who is stationed at Ramstein Air Force base, near Wiesbaden, Germany, that he is leaving there on March 27 to return to the United States. He has been in Germany for three years. After his leave he will report to Barksdale Air Force base in Louisiana where he has been reassigned.

While stationed in Germany, Darl has played on a touch football team which won the championship this year and also on a basketball team which was also victorious.

This year at Christmas time, he spent his leave skiing in Switzerland and also visited in Vienna where he attended a meeting at which Chancellor Adenauer of Germany was present. Darl made a recent trip to Berlin and Paris.

Darl graduated from Gladstone High school in 1951 and entered service in September of this year.

Strong Tells Of Polygraph

Detective Sergeant George Strong of the Marquette Post Michigan State Police, in charge of the Upper Peninsula's only polygraph located at the headquarters in Marquette, presented an interesting talk on what is commonly known as a 'lie detector' before the Gladstone Rotary Club Monday noon at the Yacht Club.

Uncovering deception is nothing new and the Chinese, Indians and Hindus had their methods hundreds, even thousands of years ago, but it remained for a California policeman by name of Keeler in 1925 to adopt scientific methods to tell when a person is not sticking to the truth and to adopt it for solving crimes, the speaker said.

Strong said Keeler only put together what was already known and adopted it for use in crime detection and in this he was aided by the fact that he had 30,000 convicts in California to use as 'guinea pigs'.

Keeler came east later and helped develop the Northwestern Crime Detection Laboratory at Chicago.

Changes in blood pressure and respiration are recorded on the 'lie detector' on a graph when false answers are given to questions. Changes in the flow of blood and also increases in perspiration are also now recorded.

It also has been found that when a person attempts to give a false answer that there is a change in the muscle tension in the arms and thighs, a change in the saliva flow and also a change in the stomach muscles.

The instrument is very valuable in helping officers determine who is guilty and also in aiding officers clear suspects who might be held because of circumstances.

He detailed several instances in which it had been helpful in both ways.

Asked if it was possible to beat the machine, Strong answered in the affirmative. This could be done by a moron, a very emotional person, a very unimaginative person or a confirmed liar.

The speaker said it was extremely valuable in that it caused many persons to confess crimes and that this in a person who has gone wrong is the first step in the road to becoming a good citizen again and regaining a useful place in society.

Dr. Norman L. Lindquist and Bruce Brackett of the Escanaba Rotary club were guests at the meeting.

Federal Reserve Board's Policy Aids Inflation, Dr. Bernier Declares

Low interest rates maintained by the Federal Reserve board are creating inflation, and leading the United States to an unsound economic position, Dr. A. B. Bernier, of Manistique, declared in a talk before the Rotary club Monday noon.

The Bank of England this month declared an interest rate of 4½ per cent and has limited buying of automobiles on credit, Dr. Bernier explained, to counteract the same inflationary trends which the Federal Reserve board in the United States is aiding by its low interest rates. The total debt of the United States is over four times greater than after World War I, yet interest rates are kept low, he noted, and short term notes are issued by the board, instead of long-term notes.

He observed that the Federal Reserve board is actually a political group which wants to preserve the "good name" of the U. S. Treasury, and also controls rates of interest and banking.

Chinese Are Hungry

Inflation and taxation in the United States are producing a situation where wage earners are "lucky if they have enough left to pay insurance premiums, since more save money," the Manistique physician stated. A graduate of New York University with a master's degree in political economics, the speaker pointed out that the total private and public debt in the United States is $1,000,000,000,000, or twice as much as its total assets of $500,000,000,000.

"Our country is in a situation where it has too much of everything and too little money, and Europe has too little of everything and too much money for what can be bought," Dr. Bernier noted.

In the late 1930s, the United States faced a tight economic situation but the war in Europe "bailed us out." It happened again in 1949 and '50, when the Korean war stimulated the economy, the speaker noted. Wars lead to even higher taxation, and are not a solution, he added, emphasizing that "something is bound to happen" in the present economic situation.

He predicted that because Chinese people are hungry, the government there may fire on a few American planes or ships, to prolong the war crisis in the hope that someone "will bail out" the Chinese economy. "Politicians and military leaders have not yet been able to forestall the pressure of a hungry stomach," he observed.

Way of Dictatorship

Dr. Bernier pointed out that Russia is the third most backward nation in the world and that he did not foresee a war between the United States and Russia in this century because "it takes brain power and armaments" to win a war. Though the Japanese were superior to the United States in man to man fighting, they did not have the armaments and lost in World War II, he explained.

The Manistique doctor also theorized that the U. S. State Department would do well to "take the play away" from Russia by

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sirs,

In making a report of the activities and finances of the Schoolcraft County unit of the American Cancer Society, I unwittingly did a grave injustice to Carl Carlson and the people who have worked so hard in previous years during our fund drive. I hope I can hereby clear up a few points so that the public may better understand the situation.

Our county quota as set up by the National Society is between $1,000 and $1,100 but we have set $1,600 as our goal in order to carry out the program for service and education that we feel fits our county. In 1953 our fund drive netted us $1,673.39, which brought back to our county after deducting campaign expenses $762.30. In 1954 we netted $1,404.08 which gave us after deducting expenses, $641.67. On that basis we had to curtail our program.

It was not intentional on my part to intimate that we had fallen short, of our quota, but only to emphasize what we need to take in, in order that we can carry on. The Upper Peninsula is one of the few areas in the United States that maintains its own cytology laboratory, such as we have in Menominee, at the disposal of our doctors and we must work hard to keep it going—only our added giving—after the quota has been reached gives us the extra dollars to make it possible.

Mrs. Frank Arrowood
Chairman
Schoolcraft County Cancer Society

demanding that Russian troops stay away from the borders of satellite countries, when Russia offers friendship, to the main three, Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany, for purposes of Russian "peace" propaganda.

"At present we are allowing everyone to owe as much as they can, but who will pay?" Dr. Bernier asked. The government, he pointed out, is not making provision for the large U. S. private debt, and is continually expanding. War crises can be used to delay the necessary action, but we must remember that "whoever controls your purse controls your life," the Manistique doctor declared.

Taxes and inflation "keep a fellow broke" and make way for dictatorships which make empty promises to relieve real troubles, he pointed out. The same thing that happened in Germany under Hitler and Italy under Mussolini could happen here, the speaker noted.

Housing Credit

The solution to the present economic and financial problem, which is closely related to war, is political. But good, competent people in the United States hesitate to enter politics because of the besmirching tactics invented to defeat candidates, he observed.

Over 65 per cent of the medical profession is now socialized, or controlled by the government, and the same is true in other fields, Dr. Bernier pointed out. This political and social revolution started in the 1930s under Roosevelt, he observed, adding that if "you keep a fellow broke he can't move much."

Examples of veteran housing financing in New York State, where the veteran pays nearly as much interest as principal and does not have an equity for 10 years were cited by Dr. Bernier. He also noted that in Sept., 1954, General Motors corporation balance sheets showed a loss, yet in the early part of this year the company announced large profits and sales.

Cars Not Cheaper

"Unionism is an outgrowth of the evils of capitalism, but union leaders have a 3-edged sword. They tell workers they will get a pay raise, tell manufacturers they must seat them on the board of directors or they will call a strike, and tell government officials they must make grants or they will swing votes away from them," the physician observed.

The repeal of the excess profits tax last year is believed to be one of the factors in the present economic boom, as well as real estate conditions, Dr. Bernier said, adding that when the excess profits tax was repealed, it was thought cars would cost less as a result. But, on the contrary, they cost more and are of poorer quality, he observed.

The speaker was introduced by Russell Watson, program chairman.

Munising Man Fined $50 For Drunk Charge

George L. Stenac, 63, of Munising, pleaded guilty Monday in Justice court to a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct and was levied fine of $50 and court costs of $4.

Stenac was arrested on M28 by Manistique State Police Friday, while he was jacking his car up after going into a snowbank. He reportedly had run another car off the road earlier.

In other Justice court work Monday, Clifford Launderville, Rte. 1, Escanaba, was assessed fine of $8 and court costs of $2 for excessive speed with a trailer, and Michael Wolosz, of Alpena, was fined $8 and assessed costs of $2 for following too closely.

Bonds of $10 were forfeited by three men on traffic charges. They were Jack S. Fagan, Pontiac, for no tail light on trailer; Henry O. Anderson, Marquette, two bonds for no valid licenses on trailer and tractor; and George Bartlett, Weyburn, Sask., Can., for improper overtaking and passing.

Skiers Complete Season Sunday

Manistique skiers wound up their season at Ishpeming Sunday but failed to place due to spills.

During the season the Manistique Junior skiers won five places in tournaments at Crystal Falls, N. Agawa, Wis., Iron Mountain, Munising, Ishpeming and at home.

This year marks the last in Junior ski jumping for Jim Cowman, Carl Maynard and Beverly Gentz. Other skiers going to Ishpeming Sunday were Ron McDonald, Bob Carlson, Jan Harbick and Jack Swartzstrom.

Police Ticket Two Following Accidents Here

Police officers ticketed two Schoolcraft county motorists here during the past weekend following traffic accidents.

Francis Tiglas, 25, of 128 S. Houghton Ave., was given a summons for reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident by city police, after a car he was driving hit a concrete light pole at the intersection of Cedar and Arbutus Aves. at 2:40 a. m., Sunday; and Lyle A. Rosebush, 31, of Gulliver, was ticketed by state police for failure to have his car under control, after his car ran off the road and rolled over three times on US-2 four miles east of Manistique at 1:53 p. m., Saturday.

Police reported the light pole was broken off by the Tiglas car. Damage is estimated at $221. Tiglas was going south on Cedar and making a left turn onto Arbutus. His car had considerable damage to the right front.

Rosebush told police he swerved on US-2 to avoid a truck pulling out. Damage to his car was estimated at $500.

Council Will Seek Bids On Adding Machine

The Manistique City Council, at a regular meeting Monday night, adopted a resolution calling for bids on an adding machine to replace an old unit in the city hall.

Discussion of insurance for the city's fleet of vehicles, which had been scheduled, was postponed until later, when a full board is present. Mayor A. W. Heitman was absent and Vernon C. Linderoth, mayor pro tem, presided at the session.

In other business The Council referred a request of John T. Watson, of Manistique township, for a license to sell cream, to the health department for approval, and referred a request of the police department, for salary and benefits increases totaling approximately $50 a month, to its labor committee for study.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

A/3C Ernest R. Pelon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Pelon, 511 Delta Ave., Manistique, was recently promoted to the grade of Airman Second Class at McChord AFB, Wash. Since his assignment to the 1705th Air Transport Group in Aug., 1954, Airman Pelon has been performing the duty of C-124C Aircraft Mechanic with the 34th Air Transport Squadron. Prior to coming to McChord AFB, he was stationed at Chanute AFB, Ill.

So, S. N. William Richard Willour, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Willour, of Gulliver, completed a sonar course at Key West, Fla., Feb. 25. He is now assigned to the USS Gyatt, D. D. 712, and will go aboard at Norfolk, Va.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dougherty and daughter, Mary Jean, and Mrs. William Mueller Sr.

Birthday Party
Molly Hoholik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hoholik, 226 Deer St., celebrated her seventh birthday with a party at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Games were played, after which dinner was served from a table centered with a large circus birthday cake, with matching favors.

Molly received many gifts. Friends attending were Kathy Potvin, Jerry DeSautel, Patty New, Diane Chatter, Joan Bauers, Donna Hoholik, Mary Jo DeSautel, James Wedell, Chris Curran and Richy Hoholik.

Square Dance Club

Thirty couples attended the meeting of the Square Dance Club Saturday evening at the Lincoln school gym.

Callers were Alex Creighton and George Tuffnell of Manistique. Lester Hall of Germfask and George Brown of Trenary. Music was provided by Mrs. Eva Chatter and Norman Martin.

Lunch was served from a table decorated in a St. Patrick's day theme by Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Hough, Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atwater.

Glass Backboards Are Received Here

Glass backboards for the Manistique High School gymnasium arrived here Monday afternoon and will be installed this weekend.

Stanley B. Carlyon will be in charge of installation, slated to begin Saturday morning, and maintenance employees of the school will assist.

The boards are being purchased through a Rotary club committee, headed by Dr. A. B. Bernier, which has organized a benefit show for March 24. The show will include a basketball tilt between varsity and faculty cagers, an amateur magician performance, a circus clown and a midgey jugger and trick roller skater.

The boards are of red herculite glass and measure 72 by 48 feet. New baskets also were ordered. The new equipment will be used for the first time in the exhibition ball game during the benefit show.

The committee in charge of arrangements to raise funds for the backboards reports ticket sales have been good. The group is seeking to raise $800 for the backboards, and all additional revenue will be turned over to the Schoolcraft County Cancer Society.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

The Rock Little Giants and Coach Bob Pelkie will go to the state championship high school basketball finals at East Lansing this weekend, even though they fell by the wayside in the regional tournament here last week. Fans and friends of the team from Rock and the surrounding area are contributing to a fund to finance the trip. Anyone wishing to donate may do so by contacting Leo Kulkki, John Jokela, Ernest Fosterling or Arnold Sayen. The team will leave Rock Friday morning.

Apparently Harvard Lancour, the Manistique featherweight Golden Gloves champion, will not be able to fight on the Chicago team in the intercity matches against New York the end of this month. The list of team members and alternates was posted recently in Chicago by Coach Johnny Behr and Lancour was not included.

Buddy Provo, the sparkplug winger of the Escanaba Hawks, can truthfully be termed a "money-player." Bud turned in his greatest hockey performances when the chips were down—in the recent Northern Michigan-Ontario Hockey League semifinal playoffs against Calumet. He scored the three-goal hat trick twice, in the first and third games, and registered a pair of assists in the middle game which the Hawks lost 6-5 at Calumet.

An experienced basketball official in this area recently pointed out that the job of handling prep cage games is getting tougher each season because of the continued advancement of the game. We can see his point, with teams moving faster, shooting more often, guarding closer in many cases, and scoring more points than ever before in the history of the game.

The Greyhound Lines team of the Arcade Majors smashed a hefty 2307 series recently, rolling games of 762, 748 and 797. Evelyn Roth and Finna Morris cracked 549 and 527 to set the pace. Amelia Molloy picked up the 6-7-10 split for the Jewel Tea Co. team and Lu Barnhart scored on the 6-7 split in Elks Monday league action.

We haven't heard the latest report from Nevada, but a recent note from out West reveals that Keith Himes, who coached at Rapid River last season, guided his Tonopah High School team through the Central Nevada Class B tournament and into the state finals. The team won the state championship last year. The state tournament will be held at the University of Nevada, in Reno, starting March 17.

Another cage coach who is well-known in Escanaba is having a successful season at the Class A Norton High School in Norton, Kan. He's Warren Smith, married to the former Elaine Beaudoin of Escanaba. His prep team recently advanced to the district championship.

The annual turn-over in the Upper Peninsula coaching personnel is already under way. Recent announcements of resignation have been made by Joe Milokna, Escanaba football coach; John Krznarich, Ironwood basketball coach, and Dick McCarthy, Kingsford cage mentor.

Dave Ghiardi was the surprise factor in Negaunee's upset victory over Iron Mountain in the regional cage tournament at Houghton. Negaunee, eventual champion in Class B, stunned the Mountaineers 83-69, and Ghiardi scored 34 points. He had been averaging about 12 points per game up to then, and his highest previous total had been 21. He slipped to 8 points in the championship game as Negaunee trimmed Munising 64-38.

Three Champions Seek To Repeat Cage Titles

By JOE FALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Winning two consecutive state high school basketball titles—or even three—is quite a trick, but it's not impossible.

This was a heartening fact to the three champions still in the running—Muskegon Heights, River Rouge and Lansing St. Mary—as 32 survivors prepared for Wednesday night's tournament quarter-finals.

Since the inception of the state tournament in 1925, seven teams have won championships two years in a row, while four teams have won titles three years in a row.

Four Triple Winners
The triple winners were Class A Kalamazoo Central (1949-50-51); Class B Grand Haven (1933-34-35); Class C Kalamazoo St. Augustine (1930-31-32) and Class D Stevensville (1935-36-37).

Muskegon Heights (Class A) and River Rouge (Class B) won their first state titles last year. Both seem to have the equipment to repeat, although River Rouge undoubtedly will get a strong argument from Lansing St. Mary, last year's Class C winner now playing in Class B.

Winning state titles is nothing new to Lansing St. Mary. The Blues have captured five Class C crowns and now, with a string of 37 straight victories, they're taking dead aim on the Class B championship.

Face Tough Foes
All three champions face formidable obstacles in the quarter-finals. Lansing St. Mary meets Buchanan, which has become a hot tournament team. Buchanan has won five games in the tournament, including victories over St. Joseph, an eight-time state champion, Hudsonville, which had a 17-1 record, and Kalamazoo St. Augustine, a five-time state champion.

River Rouge, meanwhile, goes up against Detroit St. Andrew, which has compiled a 22-2 record.

Independent Teams Practice Thursday

The weekly basketball practice games for independent teams will be held Thursday in the Escanaba Junior High gym.

Skinny's will play Mike's at 7 and Al's team faces Powers at 8:30. Only team players and managers will be admitted to the informal practice games.

New NCAA Television Plan Gets Approval Of Big Ten

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Membership approval of the NCAA football television program for 1955 got off to a quick start Monday with an okay from the powerful Big Ten Conference.

A few hours after the plan had been announced, the Big Ten stamped its approval at a meeting of athletic directors and faculty representatives.

The new plan offers 13 football dates—eight to be televised nationally and five regionally.

The Big Ten and the Pacific Coast conferences were in favor of regional television and were vigorously opposed to a "Game-of-the-Week" plan such as used last year.

Escanaba, Canadian Soo To Play Series In Marquette

First Tilt Set For Saturday; 2nd On Sunday

The Escanaba Hawks and Canadian Soo Esquires will open their best-of-five Gibson Cup championship hockey series—the climax of the Northern Michigan-Ontario League season—at the Marquette Palestra at 8 this Saturday evening.

The second game of the title playoffs will be played on the Marquette artificial ice surface this Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

All championship series games will be played in Marquette because of lack of ice at the Escanaba fairgrounds building and because the Canadian Soo sextet operated as a traveling team this season and does not have home ice.

Arrangements were completed this morning to open the series with two games this weekend. Leonard G. McKie, Marquette parks supervisor, who has charge of administration of the Palestra, a city-owned and city-operated facility, assured the Escanaba Hockey Association this morning that the Canadian Soo-Escanaba series could be played in Marquette.

The opening game was not scheduled for this Thursday evening, Marquette's regular hockey night, because the Marquette Hockey Club which finished out of the playoffs has booked an exhibition game with Portage Lake for that night. Portage Lake was defeated by Canadian Soo in the semifinal playoffs.

It is not known as yet when the third game will be played, but it is likely that it will be played in Marquette Wednesday night, March 23. The Marquette Hockey Club has booked an exhibition game with Hibbing, Minn., for Thursday, March 24, Marquette's regular hockey night.

It was reported that Marquette had booked two games with Bessemer's Awnings of Detroit for this Saturday night and Sunday, but these games were reportedly cancelled and arrangements were then made to open the Escanaba-Canadian Soo championship playoffs at the Palestra this weekend.

Escanaba's Hawks, who captured the Gibson Cup last season by defeating Marquette in the semifinals and Portage Lake in a sizzling five-game series, earned a finals berth this season by ousting Calumet in the semifinals. The series went the limit with Escanaba winning 5-3 here in the first game, losing here again 5-3 in the "sawoff" battle last Sunday afternoon.

Canadian Soo defeated Portage Lake in two straight games to enter the finals.

Appropriately enough, the two

Seeded NIT Quints Still In Contention

By ED WILKS

NEW YORK (AP)—With half of the quarter-finals out of the way, the National Invitation Tournament still has its seeded teams alive and kicking—although Cincinnati's fourth-seeded Bearcats are in the semifinals on borrowed time.

Top-seeded Duquesne clicked off a 74-66 victory over Louisville Monday night, but Cincinnati had to arouse itself to overcome Niagara 85-83 in two overtime periods.

Duquesne and Cincinnati, a two-time loser to the Dukes this season, will meet in one of the semifinal Thursday at Madison Square Garden. The other semifinalists will be decided in tonight's double-header of St. Francis (Pa.)-Holy Cross and St. Louis-DePaul.

Niagara, looking like the best team in the tournament, took a 54-50 halftime lead over Cincinnati. Jack Twyman of Cincinnati sent it into overtime at 78-78 with four points in the last three minutes.

And after an 82-82 standoff in the first extra period, Frank Nimmo out the Bearcats ahead for the grand slam homer, and batted in six runs.

Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst found the batting range as the St. Louis Cardinals tripped the Detroit Tigers 3-1. Musial went four-for-four and Schoendienst collected three hits.

The Cincinnati Redlegs received some fine hurling from Corky Valentine, Gerry Staley and Jerry Lane and blanked the Boston Red Sox 1-0. The Redlegs won the game with an unearned run in the ninth inning.

The Philadelphia Phillies took a 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Hits Two Homers
Bill Taylor walloped two homers and Jim Hearn pitched three scoreless innings and also homered to spark the New York Giants to an 11-7 success over the Chicago Cubs. The Brooklyn Dodgers turned back the Baltimore Orioles 6-3 as Carl Furillo rapped a homer and two singles.

Second baseman Bobby Avila remained a holdout after refusing the Cleveland Indians' latest salary offer. Avila left the Indians' camp in Tucson, Ariz., by plane for his home in Vera Cruz, Mexico, and said he'd wait for a call from general manager Hank Greenberg.

Avila, who led the American League in batting last season, was offered $27,500, but he wants $32,000.

Marion Means It When He Says Chisox Will Win American Pennant

By JACK HAND

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Manager Marty Marion insists he isn't talking through his hat when he predicts his Chicago White Sox, who finished third, 17 games back under Paul Richards last season, will win the 1955 American League pennant.

"It's going to be a three-team race," he said. "I don't think Cleveland can win 111 games again and I'm not sold on the idea the Bob Turley deal clinched it for New York."

"We have the same club that won 94 games last year and I see no reason why we can't do better."

Counts On Dropto

"Wait Dropto should drive in those runs for us and give Minnie Minoso some help. We'll have a better outfield with Bob Nieman to step in if Johnny Groth falters and our catching will be stronger with Clint Courtney to back up Sherm Lollar. I'm counting on George Kell to handle third base for at least 100 or 125 games with relief from Bill Serena."

Dropto is expected to be the answer to Chicago's search for power. The 6-5, 220-pound first baseman hit only four homers and knocked in only 44 runs for Detroit last year while boosting his average to .281. Marion plans to have him go back to his old free-swinging style, not worrying about the strikeouts, in hopes that he may regain his rookie form of '50 when he hit 34 homers and drove in 144 runs for Boston.

Solid Infield

With Dropto (.281) on first, Nellie Fox (.319) on second, Chico Carrasquel (.255) on short and Kell (.276) at third the Sox should have a solid infield.

Marion counts on Jim Brideweser (.265 at Baltimore) to help out if Fox or Carrasquel are hurt. Other infield spares are Serena (.159 with the Chicago Cubs), 38-year-old Phil Cavaretta (.316) and bonus baby Ron Jackson (.280).

Minso (.320) the second best hitter in the league last year and best all-around man on the club, is the left fielder. Groth (.275) will be in center with improving Jim Rivera (.286) in right, Nieman (.263 at Detroit) and Lloyd Merriam (.268 at Cincinnati) will be the extra men.

Lollar (.244) remains the No. 1 catcher although cocky Courtney (.270 at Baltimore) has other ideas.

Trucks Is Ace

Virgil Trucks (19-12) is the ace of the staff although he is 36. Bob Keegan (16-9) and Sandy Consuegra (16-3) are the other solid right-handers. Jack Harshman (14-8) and Billy Pierce (9-10), who was handicapped by arm trouble last season, are the left-handed starters.

Harry Dorish (6-4), Al Brazle (5-4 with the Cardinals) and Morris Martin (7-8) are the relief hopes.

Other pitchers with a chance are Dick Donovan (18-8 at Atlanta), Connie Johnson (17-8 at Toronto), Bob Chakales (5-7 with Cleveland and Baltimore), Mike Fornieles (1-2) and Ted Gray (3-5 with Detroit).

The Sox managed to stay in the thick of the race last year until July when the injuries slowed down the club.

Next — New York Giants.

Kansas City Woes Grow As Shantz Comes Down With Sore Hurling Arm

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

The Associated Press
Pitching woes are piling up early for Lou Boudreau in his first season as manager of the transplanted Kansas City Athletics.

Unless the onetime "boy manager" can pull off a miracle, the plight of the club appears serious. With the grapefruit season now five days old, he would be willing to trade some of the aggressiveness for a sound Bobby Shantz.

Shantz came down with a sore and stiff left arm Monday to dim his comeback aspirations. Such an injury that sidelined him most of last season.

Fourth Straight Loss

Boudreau's miseries Monday also included a 9-3 drubbing by the Chicago White Sox, fourth loss in as many exhibition games. The pitching staff has allowed 37 runs, or slightly more than nine per game.

Virgil Trucks, Chicago ace, blanked the Athletics for four innings, while Chicago battered four Kansas City pitchers—Bob Trice, Art Ceccarelli, Sonny Dixon and Carl Duser—for 13 hits.

The A's are the only major league club without a victory. The New York Yankees shaded the Milwaukee Braves 12-11 for their first Grapefruit League win.

Pro Cagers Open Playoffs Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The National Basketball Assn. swings into the playoffs tonight when the New York Knickerbockers and Boston Celtics meet in Boston.

This will be the first of a best-of-three series to determine the opponent for eastern division champion Syracuse. The winner will play the nationals a best-of-five series for the right to meet the western division survivor in the finals — a best-of-seven affair.

Rochester and Minneapolis battle it out in the West, starting Wednesday at St. Paul. Fort Wayne took the western championship in regular season play.

The Celtics and Knicks will play their second game in New York Wednesday and a third, if necessary, will be also played there Saturday. The western playoffs move to Rochester Friday and, if necessary, back to St. Paul Saturday.

The semifinals will start Saturday if the quarter finals are settled in two games, or next Tuesday if they go to three games.

The New York - Boston and Minneapolis - Rochester series are worth $2,000 to each club. The winners of the division playoffs will receive $3,500, the losers $2,500. The championship series will yield $7,500 to the victor and $5,000 to the loser.

Milwaukee and Philadelphia wound up the regular season Monday night with the Hawks winning 99-84. But the Warriors had the league's two top scorers in Neil Johnston and Paul Arizin. Johnston, winning the title for the third straight year, tallied 18 for an unofficial total of 1,631. Arizin, who before going into the marines, tallied 37 for a total of 1,512, eight more than Boston's Bob Cousy.

Cardinal Rookie Is Looking Good

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (P) — Floyd Woodriddle, who doctors didn't think would walk again after a 1953 automobile accident, is making a strong bid for a place on the St. Louis Cardinals pitching staff.

The 26-year-old husky right-hander's right leg was broken in three places between the ankle and knee when a pickup truck he was driving ran down a steep embankment in November 1953. His leg was in a cast for six months.

"It was then the doc said he had doubted at first that I would be able to walk," Woodriddle recalled Monday.

His arm has looked good so far this spring. He allowed only four hits in five innings of an intra-squad game and since the grapefruit season opened has pitched six scoreless innings. One of those three inning stints came against the New York Yankees and the other Monday against Detroit's Tigers.

Authorities at both schools made official notation that the three-foot wooden trophy was stolen. Enforcement agencies made a report of the trophy-napping and Paul slipped back into oblivion.

Paul's emergence dates from 1953 when the trophy was posted by Governor G. Mennen Williams. MSC won the trophy that year. But last year it was shuttled to Michigan, conquer of the Spartan football squad.

Several theories were advanced about the statue's disappearance. One held it was the work of pranksters from (A) Michigan State (B) Michigan. Another (B) Michigan. Another theory suggested the statue was stolen because of the "poor-relation" treatment it was getting at Michigan.

Nevertheless, Paul got a dutiful welcome back home. Walter B. Pea, dean of men, issued the following statement:

"I'm very happy that the trophy has been returned. I think it is the responsibility of the University and the board of control of athletics to make sure that it remains here—until it leaves."

MIAMI, (P) — Local backing may make rangy Bobby Dykes of Miami an even money risk against Kid Gavilan in their 10-round nationally televised fight Wednesday night.

Dykes expected to weigh in at 160 for the fight. The Cuban Kid will weigh around 152.

The fight will be televised over the Columbia Broadcasting System starting at 9 p.m. (CST).

Foreign Aid In Asia Increased To Meet Communism Menace

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reported Monday a "significant acceleration" of foreign aid operation last year in Asia, "where communism is stepping up its efforts of expansion."

A report covering the July-December period of 1954 was prepared for Congress by the Foreign Operations Administration, headed by Harold Stassen.

It told how the agency is spending the $2,800,000,000 in new appropriations for the fiscal year ending next June 30 and 2½ billion in carryover funds from previous appropriations unused but earmarked for military equipment.

The report did not say specifically how much had been spent during the six-month period, but it said that Far Eastern military aid from its start through December 1954 had reached a total of $1,900,000,000.

One-fourth of the new appropriations were earmarked for Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific. F.O.A. said that through March 1 this year it had approved 535 millions in that area for various mutual security programs other than military assistance.

Eisenhower, in a letter transmitting the report, noted the stepped up activities in Asia and, speaking of the overall program, added:

"These worldwide programs of military aid, economic development and technical cooperation are increasing the military security and economic progress of the United States and our cooperating partners in the free world."

The report emphasized strongly the shift from Europe to the underdeveloped areas of Asia, Africa and Latin America.

It said Europe's amazing economic recovery was a key factor in permitting this change. The report said the United States has shipped 10½ billion dollars worth of military aid throughout the world from October 1949 through last December.

The report gave this breakdown of major items delivered: 146,644 electronic and communications equipments; 206,836 motor transport vehicles; 36,714 tanks and combat vehicles; 36,538 artillery pieces; 6,416 aircraft; 868 navy vessels; 50,000,000 rounds of artillery ammunition; 2,200,000 small arms and machine guns; 1,600,000,000 rounds of small arms and machine gun ammunition.

World Briefs

BERLIN (AP)—Ten West Berlin businessmen went on trial before a German court on charges of selling $437,000 worth of embargoed optical equipment to Red China.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Crown Prince Mahendra Monday was proclaimed king of Nepal. He succeeds his father, 49-year-old King Tribhuvana, who died Sunday in Zurich of a prolonged heart ailment.

LONDON (AP)—The Russians claimed today they are growing corn on the cob in bunches. Moscow radio said two year's research has produced a type of corn that reaches about six feet in height and the cob branches out and looks as if it "consists of several cobs."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By Josephine Culbertson

REOPENING THE BIDDING

AT MATCH-point duplicate it is a winning philosophy to enter the auction in almost every case where the opponents have stopped at a low level. But this "balancing" idea is not so wise at rubber bridge—as was proved to West in this deal:

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ Q J 7 6 3	♥ A 5 4
♦ K 5	♣ K 6 5
♠ 10 8 4	♥ K J 9 7
♦ A Q 10	♣ A 4 3 2
9 8 5 3	♠ 8

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 2 ♣ 2 ♠ Pass
Pass 3 ♣ 3 ♠ Pass
4 ♠ Dble. (final bid)

West's double was of that well-known (but nevertheless silly) variety that is actuated by annoyance rather than judgment. The opponents had stopped at two spades, so West assumed that he could safely "boost" them, and when they amiably accepted the suggestion, West doubled as a matter of course (and pride). As may be seen, the contract could not be beaten.

But let's ignore the double to take up the bidding (by West) that pushed North-South to four spades. At rubber bridge, when the early bidding goes as it did here, it does not make much sense to "experiment." West should not have taken such a complacent view about North's single raise. Later, in the discussion of the bidding, North said that he would have jumped to three spades if West had not intervened, but that he (North) had felt that his hand did not quite warrant that action over two clubs.

This was extremely questionable reasoning on North's part, but the point is that many players follow the same course, and so it behooves their opponents to be on guard. The fact that the free single raise might have been a double raise in the absence of an opposing bid, should dampen the opponents' spirits when they must decide whether or not to reopen the bidding. In this case West knew he could not hope to make five clubs in view of partner's silence; so he would have been well advised to bow out.

Strike Settled

DETROIT (AP)—A week-long strike at Vickers, Inc. was to end Monday with the return to work of some 1,600 members of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers. Local 945 voted to return Sunday after management agreed to negotiate union grievances.

Sometimes a man gets a hard fall from the big bluff he puts up.

HAIRLINE JOB

DES MOINES (AP)—M. D. George, Des Moines jeweler, claims one of the steadiest pairs of hands in Iowa. With a drill 1/20,000 of an inch in diameter he drilled a hole through a hair and then pushed another hair through the hole.

"The hardest part," he says, "was making the drill."
